City Council Holds $5 License Fee For Study

Circleville Council Tuesday held to a third reading an ordinance authorizing the city to levy a $5 permissive automobile license tax.

In other legislative action, council authorized the city service director to advertise for bids for a truck mounted snow plow and approved three appropriation ordinances.

The appropriations approved were the transfer of $900 from the general fund to the fire hydrant fund of the fire department; $150 from the general fund to the service department traffic light maintenance fund; $150 from the general fund to the police chief's expense account.

The appropriation ordinances were prepared by Mayor Richard Gerhardt and presented to council without first being approved by the finance committee of council.

A RECESS was called to discuss the action before a vote was taken. Second Ward Councilman John Jenkins directed the mayor to channel ordinances through the proper committees to avoid delay and unnecessary recesses.

Councilman-at-large Noble Barr quickly moved the ordinance on the $5 license tax be held for a third reading at last night's council meeting.

Third Ward Councilman Harold Clifton, an advocate of the $5 license tax, asked council members to attend the next finance committee meeting so the ordinance could be fully explained.

City Council also received a communication from the Planning and Zoning Commission recommending that the Julius Smith and Clarence Wolfe properties in the south end be rezoned from residential to commercial.

The commission further recommended that the rezoning be approved only with the stipulation that a 30-foot landscaping zone be maintained between Court St. and the proposed shopping center for the area.

Another stipulation was that there be only one outlet from the area to Court St. and that outlet be an extension of Town St.

THE commission further recommended that a landscape screen be erected along Dunmore Road.

Property owned by Charles Glitt was not recommended to be rezoned. Glitt had requested the zoning of his lot which bounds the area on the south.

Tough Stand Ends South Carolina Prison Outbreak

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — South Carolina's top prison official calmed rioting prisoners Tuesday and later expressed optimism that an "understanding legislature" will help him solve their grievances.

Ten inmates and six guards were injured during the five-hour riot that abruptly ended when William Leeke, director of the state Department of Corrections, threatened to send in troops armed with bayonets and tear gas.

Leeke said the 10 injured inmates were hurt by fellow prisoners.

Some 100 National Guardsmen, 20 highway patrolmen and 26 Columbia city policemen were summoned to the State Penitentiary at the height of the disorder.

Then Leeke climbed to the top of a low building overlooking the rioting prisoners and told them through a bullhorn to walk onto the big athletic field fronting the prison.

Leeke said the 20 leaders of the riot would be punished and said the other 30 or 40 who participated in the riot also would be disciplined.

"It is unfair to blame the entire inmate population who are trying hard to rehabilitate themselves," he said. The prison has 1,500 inmates.

Leeke met with a committee of inmates after order was restored and later addressed all the prisoners on the athletic field, promising to continue working to correct inadequate conditions.

"We have an understanding legislature," Leeke told newsmen later. "And we hope for funds to make these changes."

He referred specifically to plans to tear down the 104-year-old cellblock No. 1 that is dark, drafty and generally dismal. Other grievances included complaints about the food and alleged roughness when searching prisoners.

He said damage from the riot was limited to broken windows and water pipes, burned mattresses and scattered food.

OIC Hits Bond Issue Vagueness

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The president of the Ohio Information Committee, OIC, said Tuesday he "deplored the lack of complete analysis and full discussion" on a proposed $759 million state bond issue.

OIC President Fred J. Milligan, a Columbus attorney, said passage of the measure would allow the state to issue $100 million in highway bonds a year without a vote of the people as long as $100 million of the debt was retired each year.

John E. McElroy, executive assistant to Gov. James A. Rhodes, said Milligan's interpretation of the issue was correct and of "no surprise."

He said the Ohio Chamber of Commerce's endorsement of the issue established a $500 million debt limit on highway financing, modernizing the "unrealistic" $750,000 constitutional limitation on debt incurrence without a vote of the people.

McElroy said there never was an attempt to represent the proposal as merely a $749 million bond issue.

State officials have said the amendment places a $500 million limit on outstanding highway bonds at any one time.

Money for retiring the bonds would come from the state's general fund.

North Viets Shoot Down U.S. Copters

SAIGON (AP)—Two evacuation helicopters loaded with wounded Americans were shot down by North Vietnamese troops during a fierce battle in jungled foothills south of Da Nang, military spokesmen reported today.

U.S. headquarters said several soldiers who had been wounded in the ground fighting were unaccounted for and presumed dead. They were aboard one of the helicopters that was destroyed while trying to evacuate them to a field hospital.

The U.S. Command declined to say how many men were missing while a search was still on for their bodies, but unconfirmed reports put the number at three. Four crewmen aboard the helicopter, a corpsman and two wounded infantrymen were rescued. The crewmen and the corpsmen were wounded.

The second helicopter was recovered. None of the crewmen or wounded aboard it was killed or missing. But three of them were reported wounded.

Headquarters said 23 Americans were wounded in the day-long fighting Tuesday, but none killed in the ground action that was touched off when enemy troops opened fire on troops of the 198th Light Infantry Brigade sweeping the area.

The number of enemy casualties was not known.

The loss of the one helicopter raised to four the number downed by enemy ground fire in the past three days in South Vietnam and to 876 the total for the war.

Cold Air Hits Rockies; Heads East

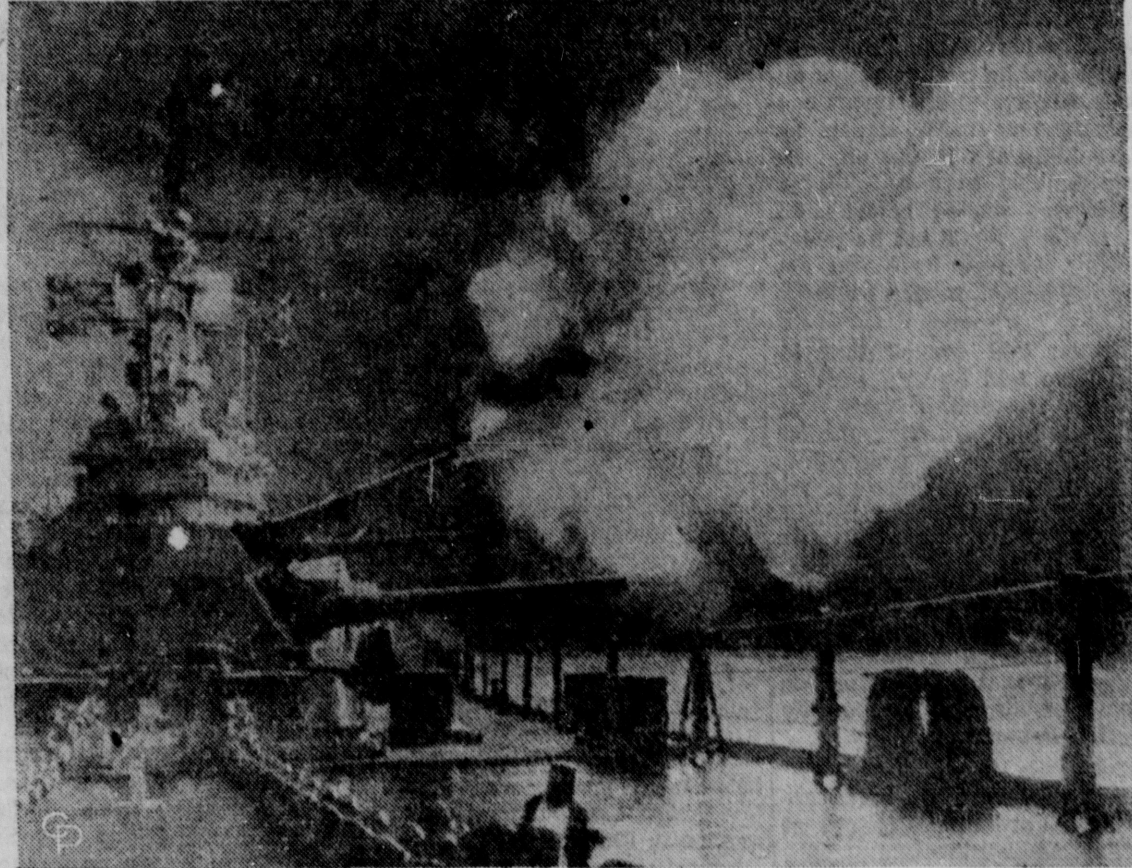

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A windblown wave of cold air swept the northern Rockies today and foreshadowed an end to summerlike mildness warming the Plains and Midwest.

Temperatures toppled into the low 30s across Montana. Cut Bank registered 32 just after midnight. Snow dusted northwestern portions of the state before dawn, and the Weather Bureau indicated the snow would extend into other sections of the northern Rockies.

High readings today were expected to be up to 20 degrees cooler in northern areas of the Plains where the balmy 60s and 70s were common Tuesday.

Rain dampened the central Plains and spilled into the Midwest and Great Lakes region in the early morning hours.

Temperatures remained generally mild throughout the night in the midcontinent, the East and South, however. And another day of summery 70s and 80s, along with an abundance of fair skies, was in prospect for most of the eastern half of the country.

Planning Commission Picks Consultant For Master Plan

The Circleville Planning and Zoning Commission has selected the firm of Parkins-Rodgers and Associates as the city's planning consultants it was announced by Mayor Richard Gerhardt today.

The Detroit, Mich., based firm has a branch office in Columbus and is the planner for the State of Ohio.

The firm will begin the city's master plan made possible through a federal grant. The grant of $22,600 includes $7,500 in local funds.

Circleville first applied for the 701 planning grant from the federal government in April of 1965. The grant was shelved and little more was heard of it until the summer of 1967.

AT THAT time, the city submitted a priority statement, and also included the grant in a model cities planning program submitted by Mayor Gerhardt.

The grant was made in April of this year. Circleville will enter into a three-part contract which includes the city, the state and firm. The contract must be approved by council.

Heading up the planning operation here will be Chris Hogenbirk, who was formerly associated with the Director of Planning Division of the State Development Department.

Initially, the planning will consist of a study of basic resources, natural resources, economics, population, neighborhood analysis, land use and utility, traffic and transportation and community facilities.

Preliminary plans will be prepared as the studies are completed and they will be put together in a master plan. The master plan must then be adopted by the city.

Members of Circleville's Planning and Zoning Commission are Wally Yamrick, chairman; Mayor Richard Gerhardt; Service Director Earl Radcliff; City Parks Chairman Harold Anderson and William Cook.

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Federal Nigerian troops have captured Okigwi and are slowly moving towards Umuahia-Biafra's last remaining major town 30 miles away, according to reports reaching Lagos today.

The hillside town of Okigwi fell to 1st Division soldiers Tuesday while Nigeria celebrated a war-torn eighth year of independence.

Umuahia, where the secessionist state is believed preparing to make a last ditch stand in its declared "fight to the finish," is also being threatened from the south where 3rd Division commandos are reported less than 20 miles away.

Wallace Vote In Ohio Eyed

Brown Predicts 4-Million Turnout

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown predicted Tuesday that George C. Wallace will get a million Ohio votes if his name is on the Nov. 5 ballot.

Brown made the statement in forecasting that four million Ohio voters will turnout in the general election.

Brown said that if Wallace, the American Independent Party's presidential candidate, loses his U.S. Supreme Court fight to have his name printed on the Ohio ballot, he probably will get 500,000 write-in votes.

Meanwhile, Wallace brought his campaign to Ohio today, with stops scheduled in four cities through Saturday.

He was to appear at a 10 a.m. rally in Akron and a noon rally in Canton.

He is due in Toledo Thursday afternoon after trips to Pittsburgh and Indianapolis. In Toledo, he will address an 8 p.m. rally at the Lucas County Recreation Center in suburban Maumee, and spend the night in Toledo.

On Saturday, Wallace will visit Cleveland, having visited Buffalo, N. Y., and New Jersey cities in the meantime. His schedule calls for a 3 p.m. appearance at Cleveland Municipal Auditorium, then a flight to Alabama.

Toledo's mayor, William Engsign, said Tuesday that Toledo police would leave Wallace's security guard when the candidate moves into Maumee.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson received and accepted "with deep regret" today a request by Abe Fortas that his nomination as chief justice of the United States be withdrawn.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas asked President Johnson today to withdraw his nomination as chief justice.

In a letter to the President, Fortas said that the continued efforts to secure Senate confirmation of his nomination, even if ultimately successful, would result in a continuation of attacks upon the court.

The letter was released at the Supreme Court simultaneously with its delivery to the President at the White House.

Fortas' request that his controversial nomination be withdrawn followed a vote in the Senate Tuesday which fell 14 short of the two-thirds necessary to cut off a filibuster by opponents.

The 58-year-old justice, appointed to the Supreme Court by Johnson in 1965, started off his letter by saying he had noted the failure to end the filibuster in the Senate.

He coupled this with the observation that the new term of the court will begin on Monday and that "I will, of course, be participating in its work as associate justice."

"In view of these circumstances," Fortas wrote, "I ask you to withdraw my nomination as chief justice."

"Continued efforts to secure confirmation of that nomination, even if ultimately successful, would result in a continuation of the attacks upon the court which have characterized the filibuster—attacks which have been sometimes extreme and entirely unrelated to responsible criticism."

"Attacks of this sort would be especially inappropriate and harmful to the court and the nation if they should continue while the court is in session, engaged in the adjudication of issues of great importance to the nation as well as the litigants."

There was no immediate comment at the White House on the Fortas letter.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, of Montana, had said Tuesday he planned to decide by the end of the week whether to try to overturn the Senate vote against Fortas' nomination.

Tanker Crash Fatal To Airmen

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A U.S. Air Force KC135 tanker, loaded with jet fuel, crashed in flames today at Uthapao, a base for B52 bombers flying missions over South Vietnam. A U.S. Embassy spokesman said three of four crewmen were killed.

The spokesman reported the four-engine jet crashed 250 yards from the end of the 11,000-foot runway on takeoff. The base is 75 miles south of Bangkok.

The cause of the crash was unknown.

The tanker was on its way to rendezvous with U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers for in-flight refueling.

The letter was referred to Chief of Police Robert Temple to see if anyone in the area objected to the proposed license.

A communication from Burgess and Niple, engineering consultants, concerning the extension of sanitary sewer service to the Turner Addition was read.

The communication indicated that since the canning factory was no longer operating, the Town and Washington St. sewer could be extended into the area at an estimated cost of $47,650, not including the purchase of right-of-way easements.

THE sewer would service a 38-acre tract. Assessment per lot was estimated at $330 by the engineering firm.

A petition asking that a traffic control light be erected at the entrance to Ted Lewis Park and Court St. The petition was signed by over 60 persons.

Melvin Leasure met with council asking special permission to store a house trailer on his lot at 324 S. Washington St.

Leasure said the trailer belonged to his son, who was serving in Vietnam. According to Leasure, his son's salary as a soldier was not sufficient to permit him to pay a $30 a month rental fee at area trailer parks.

Councilman Clifton told Leasure that in his opinion Council had no authority to give him permission to store the trailer without amending present ordinances.

Fourth Ward councilman Boyd Horn stated that in his opinion, "The right thing to do is to let the man leave that trailer in there. In the other two wars things were pulled off for the benefit of soldiers," Horn said.

Leasure was informed that unless council voted to change the ordinance, he was in violation of the law by keeping the trailer on the lot. He was also told that he was in violation every day until the law was changed.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

Councilman Horn said last night that the $5 license tax should be placed on the May ballot to give citizens of Circleville an opportunity to say yes or no.

First Ward Councilman David Goldschmidt informed his fellow soldiers that he had contacted the State Highway Department concerning new traffic signals for state highways in the city. He said he had been told that if work was started before Dec. 31, the city would not be penalized by the state by having gas and license tax money withheld.

Clifton told council that he had been told by city solicitor Charles Hosterman there was no record of a taxi franchise ever having been granted in Circleville. He suggested the taxi ordinance be updated.

Horn complained of the weeds growing in his yard and of the condition of the sewers. He was told by Council President Joseph Bell that the complaints should be directed to the City Service Department.

Mayor Richard Gerhardt approved all ordinances passed at the last council meeting.

He informed council that his budget would be submitted by Nov. 15, that the city could get air conditioners from Berger Hospital, that the Planning and Zoning Commission had selected a planning consultant.

The mayor did not present any recommendations to council. It is one of the few meetings this year in which the mayor has had no recommendations.

Councilmen Keith Wagner, Dave Crawford and Noble Barr had no reports for council last night. However, Barr did question Safety Director Robert Adkins about the need for three traffic lights at the crosswalks. Barr wanted to know "where the kickback is on the traffic lights."

Adkins informed the councilman that there was absolutely no kickback and that three traffic lights had to be erected to comply with state statutes.

Erv Leist reported the water department's new accounting machine had been delivered. Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe announced delivery had been received on the new pickup truck for his department.

Students from a Circleville citizenship class attended a portion of last night's council session.

The session was rather lengthy because of the communications and discussion.

Yippies To Continue HUAC Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of antiwar protesters who, led by a half-naked Yippie wearing love beads and bands of live ammunition, disrupted a House Committee on Un-American Activities hearing say they are coming back for more.

Fourteen protesters and attorneys were tossed out of a HUAC subcommittee hearing Tuesday after a day of taunting committee members and witnesses who testified that demonstrations during the Chicago National Convention were aimed at creating anarchy.

The hearings got off to a bizarre start when Jerry Rubin, leader of the Youth International Party—Yippies—showed up naked to the waist, wearing love beads and belts of live ammunition strung around his shoulders. He also carried a toy rifle in his hand.

He was hauled from the hearing room, but was allowed to return after he got rid of the ammunition.

He and 13 other persons were later invited to leave for good when they stood in a silent protest against the committee.

The hearings resume Thursday after a break today for a Jewish holy day. Rubin and the others, many of whom have been ordered to testify, say they will return Thursday.

Rubin was thrown out of a 1966 investigation of antiwar protests when he showed up in a rented Revolutionary War costume.

Between taunts from Rubin and the others in the audience and procedural objections by lawyers in the audience, the subcommittee headed by Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., heard testimony on the bloody clashes between demonstrators and police during the Democratic convention in Chicago.

Ichord started the hearings by reading a statement saying the committee had evidence even before the demonstrations that leaders were "determined to effect a general breakdown in law and order preparatory to their long range objective of seizing the powers of government." James L. Gallagher, an investigator for the committee, testified the aims of the demonstrators "were clearly compatible with the policies of Hanoi, Peking and Moscow."

Sgt. Joseph Brubisic of the Chicago police department said minutes of a pre-demonstration meeting recorded organizer Tom Hayden as saying the protesters "should have people organized who can fight the police, should be willing to get arrested."

Nixon Says HHH In Wrong On Vietnam -- Either Way

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, maintaining his own Vietnam policy silence, says that about anyway Hubert H. Humphrey handles the war issue will be wrong.

Nixon's tactics are pointing at establishing a vise around his Democratic opponent's stand on the war in relation to the Johnson Administration's policies.

If Humphrey parts company with Johnson on the war, Nixon says he has endangered prospects for a negotiated peace this year.

But if the vice president stands by the Johnson line, Nixon calls him a candidate bound to the ways of the past.

Nixon made these points Tuesday during a campaign swing from Detroit to Erie and Scranton, Pa. He spent the night in Virginia as he began a two-day southern trip.

The Republican nominee opened in Detroit with a suggestion that Humphrey's qualified endorsement of a halt to bombing of North Vietnam might undermine the American position at the Paris negotiating table.

"The trump card that our negotiators have in order to assure any kind of success is the bombing halt," Nixon told his first full-scale news conference in two weeks. "Now, if that trump card is played by either of the presidential candidates by indicating that we in January might do something that the negotiators have refused to do in Paris, it means that all chance for those negotiations to succeed will evaporate."

Nixon said Humphrey's statement on bombing, "if he did not mean it to be a departure from his previous position of not pulling the rug out from under our negotiators, has been widely interpreted to the contrary."

Nixon called upon his Democratic rival for clarification and said it is possible Hanoi could read the Humphrey statement as offering a concession. Nixon challenged Humphrey to say that he, as president, would deal "on exactly the same basis that President Johnson is negotiating now. That there would have to be some sort of action, word or deed" on the part of the Communists to win a bombing halt.

Nixon displayed phase two in Erie, before a large airport crowd. He said if the current administration is unable to win the war, "Then certainly the American people will look at the record."

They'll look at the two candidates, he said. "One helped make the record. The other is not obstructed by it, he's not tied to it."

"And I say let's get new leadership, which will bring an honorable end to that war."

Chamber Expresses Concern Over Need For Airport Here

Board of Directors of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce expressed a deep concern during a noon luncheon meeting Monday about the lack of official action to establish an airport here.

Asa Elsea, president of Circleville Jaycees, informed directors that a $100,000 grant was still available to this community for airport construction, in addition to about $40,000 in pledges from local individuals and industry.

Elsea also noted that the money is available on a first-come first-served basis, but only $250,000 remained in the fund.

Keith Wagner, director and city councilman, was asked what the feelings of council were towards the airport. Wagner commented that he had "nothing to report" but assured the directors that a meeting was slated with county commissioners on the availability of land etc. He indicated there were "mixed emotions" among councilmen concerning the airport, but added that he was "personally in favor of the airport facility."

ROBERT Wilson, chamber president, reported that the Cir-cleve community had recently lost a major industry to Newark, O., due to a lack of an airport.

Robert Johnson, director, announced that a major construction firm had indicated it would establish its central office here if an airport facility were available. An executive of the firm, according to Johnson, is establishing his home here. Johnson also noted that this is just "one of many" similar instances that shows the need for an airport.

Wayne E. Smith, public relations chairman for the chamber, reported the Deer Creek Reservoir dedication ceremony was a big success. He publicly thanked everyone for their cooperation.

Smith said that as a result of the dedication ceremony, the Village of New Holland has organized a chamber. He said the village would have been included in the ceremony plans if a chamber had been organized, since it was the chambers of the tri-county area that were in charge of the program.

Dr. William Meyers, Health-Safety Committee, reported that phase one of the cross-walk lighting had been completed. He said that total cost of the program was $1,988.12 with the city, chamber and schools sharing the costs.

Wilson read a letter from Fred Mohr, director of the Department of Natural Resources, commending Mrs. E. R. Bennett for her part in the Deer Creek Reservoir dedication.

A nominating committee presented a slate of 14 chamber members' names to fill seven vacancies on the Board of Directors. The election will be held at the November meeting. Candidates are: Dale Ankrom of Hamilton Store; Howard Bobo, Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.; Forrest Croman, Croman Hatchery; Sam Foster, DuPont; Bill Hall, Owens-Illinois; Bob Hylcross, Big Bear Store; Rev. Melvin Maxwell, Circleville Bible College; Dr. William Myers; Richard Plum, Hummel and Plum Insurance; Clarence Radcliffe, Radcliffe Cleaners; Wayne Smith, General Electric; Don Repp, Bingham Drugs; James Stambaugh, Berger Hospital; and Ermi Stonerock, Stonerock TV and Appliances.

Deputy Dismissed
James Lockard was dismissed as deputy sheriff Sept. 29, for conduct unbecoming an officer, according to an announcement Wednesday by Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff.

Lockard was placed on indefinite suspension midnight of Sept. 9, pending an investigation of his conduct by Sheriff Radcliff.

Radcliff stated that he summoned Lockard to his office Sunday evening at which time the deputy was given an opportunity to resign. When Lockard refused to submit his resignation, he was dismissed from the force by the sheriff.

Humphrey Lashes Out Again At Wallace On Law, Order

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey is campaigning hard against George C. Wallace in the South—talking of Germany's Hitler and America's times of trouble.

Humphrey, calling Wallace a "creature of the most reactionary underground forces in American life," told a University of Tennessee audience:

"I say to you solemnly in the 1930s the reactionary forces of Germany thought they had found a man to speak for them, and a few years later, helped by an economic depression, that man had destroyed not only his creators but German democracy, the European balance of power. . . and the result was the carnage of World War II."

"You say these things could never happen in America," Humphrey said. "I devoutly hope and pray that you are right. . . But I know from deep personal experience we are closer to this possibility than I would have ever believed possible."

An audience estimated at 11,000 turned out Tuesday night. The audience—mainly students—was friendly. There were boos when Humphrey first spoke of Wallace and applause when he said the University of Tennessee was the place to criticize Wallace.

Humphrey steered his campaign from the border state of Tennessee far below the Mason-Dixon line to Jacksonville, Fla.

While Wallace is running on a platform of law and order, Humphrey said, as governor of Alabama he disobeyed courts, insulted judges, and headed a state "with the highest murder rate in the nation."

"He could not maintain order in his own state—where he had the power—but now he promises to maintain order in every city and state where he will not have the power," the vice president said in a prepared speech.

Humphrey said Alabama housewives pay the highest sales tax in the country, six cents on the dollar; wages of working men in Alabama were third lowest in the nation; only two states spend less per pupil in education than Alabama; and Alabama has one of the lowest workmen's compensation systems in the country.

Assassins Are Studied By Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The presidential commission on violence is probing into the dark alleyways of the human mind to try to find what makes a man an assassin.

The panel stepped gingerly clear of the specific slayings of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in its search for some common thread to explain the assassinations that have shaken the nation in recent years.

Top Secret Service officials were called to today's closed session. They included Director James J. Rowley, Thomas J. Kelley, assistant director for protective intelligence, and Charles Humpstone, who oversees the presidential guard.

Psychiatrists and academic experts dotted the witness list for the public portion of the hearings.

The commission, created by President Johnson as Sen. Kennedy lay dying last June, turned to assassinations as it began its third weekly session of testimony in a wide survey of American violence.

Maine Girl Tells Of Kidnaping By Ohio Man

BANGOR, Maine (AP) — A jury of nine women and three men is expected to take the case today of an Akron, Ohio, man charged with kidnaping a teenage girl last July 27.

The testimony of Darlene LeClair, 17, of Orono, Tuesday wound up the state's case.

She told the jury that someone pressed a cloth permeated with an unfamiliar odor over her face and that she passed out several times.

The defense for Leo L. Walker, 22, rested without offering any testimony.

Police found Miss LeClair bound and gagged in the back of a furniture van parked on an Orono street. Walker was identified as the driver of the van.

Bigger OU Voice For Students Urged

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — David Stivison, student body president at Ohio University, thinks students should have a voice in the selection of a new school president.

Stivison said Tuesday that the university board of trustees insulated the intelligence of students by not including a student representative on a five-man committee named to recommend a successor to President Vernon Alden, who is leaving in June to enter private business.

Carnal Knowledge Case Dismissed

A sex offense accusation against an Orient man was dismissed Tuesday when a Pickaway County Common Pleas Court jury returned a verdict of "not guilty."

The jury, which deliberated about one hour following two days of testimony, ruled that Roy Tackett, Orient, was innocent of the charge of having carnal knowledge of a 13-year-old Orient girl.

Judge William Ammer presided over the trial. Jurors were Luella Lape, John Porter, Forrest Easterday, Herman Porter, Arthur Bowman, Ellen Leist, Rose Kahler, Eva Hempler, Lawrence Hoover, Thelma Stiles, Carl Law and Donald Gaines. Edna West was the alternate.

"The profit system has provided us with the abundance we know today," Saxbe said. "It is what made America great and attracted people from other nations to our shores."

The Ohio attorney general said the estimated 30 million people who do not currently share in the country's wealth can be customers of tomorrow if given a boost to get them into the stream of production.

Gilligan Backs Tax Relief

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — John J. Gilligan, Democratic U.S. Senate candidate, urged Ohio voters today to approve the proposed constitutional amendment to authorize a homestead tax exemption.

The amendment would permit the legislature to grant a tax exemption to certain retired Ohioans over 65 who own their homes and live in them.

Gilligan, in a statement issued here today, said "senior citizens with modest fixed incomes have been hard hit by the steadily rising costs of living."

He said they are entitled to a tangible expression of appreciation for decades of citizenship and service to society.

In a Tuesday night address at a Stark County Democratic dinner in Canton, Gilligan said a police state is not the answer to the problems of lawlessness in America.

"We reject the idea that the answer to violence is overwhelming violence, that the answer to black racism is white racism and that the answer to white racism is black racism," he said.

Gunmen Take Jewels, Art

NEW YORK (AP) — Two gunmen invaded the luxurious East Side apartment of Dr. Harry Rudel, a participant in the development of the birth control pill, and made off Tuesday with jewelry, paintings and sculpture valued at $250,000.

The bandits gained entrance to the Rudel apartment, which occupies the 10th floor of the building, by posing as delivery men.

At gunpoint, they forced Mrs. Sylvia Rudel, 35, a nurse, and a maid into a clothes closet. Two small children were in another room and were not disturbed. Rudel was not home at the time.

The bandits cut paintings from frames, took jade statues from a foyer cabinet, and ransacked the entire apartment. Police said one jade statue was valued at $100,000.

Columbus Man Injured In Auto Mishap

A Columbus man was injured in a one car accident on Route 56 about one mile east of Combs Road Tuesday when he lost control of his car.

Claire Sattie, 39, driver of the car, was treated at Berger Hospital for emergency treatment of a lacerated nose.

Sattie told sheriff's deputies that he lost control of his car about 11:30 p.m. Tuesday when the right front wheel struck the berm of the road.

The car skidded across the road twice before going into a ditch about 200 feet from where the driver first lost control of his vehicle. The car rolled over twice in the ditch, coming to rest on its side, according to the sheriff's department report.

A charge of excessive speed for the road conditions was filed by the sheriff's department against Sattie.

Yippies To Continue HUAC Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of antiwar protesters who, led by a half-naked Yippie wearing love beads and bands of live ammunition, disrupted a House Committee on Un-American Activities hearing say they are coming back for more.

Fourteen protesters and attorneys were tossed out of a HUAC subcommittee hearing Tuesday after a day of taunting committee members and witnesses who testified that demonstrations during the Chicago National Convention were aimed at creating anarchy.

The hearings got off to a bizarre start when Jerry Rubin, leader of the Youth International Party—Yippies—showed up naked to the waist, wearing love beads and belts of live ammunition strung around his shoulders. He also carried a toy rifle in his hand.

He was hauled from the hearing room, but was allowed to return after he got rid of the ammunition. He and 13 other persons were later invited to leave for good when they stood in a silent protest against the committee.

The hearings resume Thursday after a break today for a Jewish holy day. Rubin and the others, many of whom have been ordered to testify, say they will return Thursday.

Rubin was thrown out of a 1966 investigation of antiwar protests when he showed up in a rented Revolutionary War costume.

Between taunts from Rubin and the others in the audience and procedural objections by lawyers in the audience, the subcommittee headed by Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., heard testimony on the bloody clashes between demonstrators and police during the Democratic convention in Chicago.

Ichord started the hearings by reading a statement saying the committee had evidence even before the demonstrations that leaders were "determined to effect a general breakdown in law and order preparatory to their long range objective of seizing the powers of government." James L. Gallagher, an investigator for the committee, testified that the demonstrators "were clearly compatible with the policies of Hanoi, Peking and Moscow."

Sgt. Joseph Brubisic of the Chicago police department said minutes of a pre-demonstration meeting recorded organizer Tom Hayden as saying the protesters "should have people organized who can fight the police, should be willing to get arrested."

He said if the current administration is unable to win the war, "Then certainly the American people will look at the record."

They'll look at the two candidates, he said. "One helped make the record. The other is not obstructed by it, he's not tied to it."

"And I say let's get new leadership, which will bring an honorable end to that war."

Nixon challenged Humphrey to say that he, as president, would deal "on exactly the same basis that President Johnson is negotiating now. That there would have to be some sort of action, word or deed" on the part of the Communists to win a bombing halt.

Nixon Says HHH In Wrong On Vietnam - - Either Way

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, maintaining his own Vietnam policy silence, says that about anyway Hubert H. Humphrey handles the war issue will be wrong.

Nixon's tactics are pointing at establishing a vise around his Democratic opponent's stand on the war in relation to the Johnson Administration's policies.

—If Humphrey parts company with Johnson on the war, Nixon says he has endangered prospects for a negotiated peace this year.

—But if the vice president stands by the Johnson line, Nixon calls him a candidate bound to the ways of the past.

Nixon made these points Tuesday during a campaign swing from Detroit to Erie and Scranton, Pa. He spent the night in Virginia as he began a two-day southern trip.

The Republican nominee opened in Detroit with a suggestion that Humphrey's qualified endorsement of a halt to bombing of North Vietnam might undermine the American position at the Paris negotiating table.

"The trump card that our negotiators have in order to assure any kind of success is the bombing halt," Nixon told his first full-scale news conference in two weeks. "Now, if that trump card is played by either of the presidential candidates by indicating that we in January might do something that the negotiators have refused to do in Paris, it means that all chance for those negotiations to succeed will evaporate."

Nixon said Humphrey's statement on bombing, "if he did not mean it to be a departure from his previous position of not pulling the rug out from under our negotiators, has been widely interpreted to the contrary . . ."

Nixon called upon his Democratic rival for clarification and said it is possible Hanoi could read the Humphrey statement

Chamber Expresses Concern Over Need For Airport Here

Board of Directors of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce expressed a deep concern during a noon luncheon meeting Monday about the lack of official action to establish an airport here.

Asa Elsea, president of Circleville Jaycees, informed directors that a $100,000 grant was still available to this community for airport construction, in addition to about $40,000 in pledges from local individuals and industry.

Elsea also noted that the money is available on a first-come first-serve basis, but only $250,000 remained in the fund.

Keith Wagner, director and city councilman, was asked what the feelings of council were towards the airport. Wagner commented that he had "nothing to report" but assured the directors that a meeting was slated with county commissioners on the availability of land etc. He indicated there were "mixed emotions" among councilmen concerning the airport, but added that he was "personally in favor of the airport facility."

ROBERT Wilson, chamber president, reported that the Cir-

cleville community had recently lost a major industry to Newark, O., due to a lack of an airport.

Robert Johnson, director, announced that a major construction firm had indicated it would establish its central office here if an airport facility were available. An executive of the firm, according to Johnson, is establishing his home here. Johnson also noted that this is just "one of many" similar instances that shows the need for an airport.

Wayne E. Smith, public relations chairman for the chamber, reported the Deer Creek Reservoir dedication ceremony was a big success. He publicly thanked everyone for their cooperation.

Smith said that as a result of the dedication ceremony, the Village of New Holland has organized a chamber. He said the village would have been included in the ceremony plans if a chamber had been organized, since it was the chambers of the tri-county area that were in charge of the program.

Dr. William Meyers, Health-Safety Committee, reported that phase one of the cross-walk lighting had been completed. He said that total cost of the program was $1,988.12 with the city, chamber and schools sharing the costs.

Wilson read a letter from Fred Mohr, director of the Department of Natural Resources, commending Mrs. E. R. Bennett for her part in the Deer Creek Reservoir dedication.

A nominating committee presented a slate of 14 chamber members' names to fill seven vacancies on the Board of Directors. The election will be held at the November meeting.

Candidates are: Dale Ankrom of Hamilton Store; Howard Bobo, Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.; Forrest Croman, Croman Hatchery; Sam Foster, DuPont; Bill Hall, Owens-Illinois; Bob Holycross, Big Bear Store; Rev. Melvin Maxwell, Circleville Bible College; Dr. William Myers; Richard Plum, Hummel and Plum Insurance; Clarence Radcliffe, Radcliffe Cleaners; Wayne Smith, General Electric; Don Repp, Bingham Drugs; James Stambaugh, Berger Hospital; and Ernil Stonerock, Stonerock TV and Appliances.

Deputy Dismissed
James Lockard was dismissed as deputy sheriff Sept. 29, for conduct unbecoming an officer, according to an announcement Wednesday by Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff.

Lockard was placed on indefinite suspension midnight of Sept. 9, pending an investigation of his conduct by Sheriff Radcliff.

Radcliff stated that he summoned Lockard to his office Sunday evening at which time the deputy was given an opportunity to resign. When Lockard refused to submit his resignation, he was dismissed from the force by the sheriff.

Humphrey Lashes Out Again At Wallace On Law, Order

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey is campaigning hard against George C. Wallace in the South—talking of Germany's Hitler and America's times of trouble.

Humphrey, calling Wallace a "creature of the most reactionary underground forces in American life," told a University of Tennessee audience:

"I say to you solemnly in the 1930s the reactionary forces of Germany thought they had found a man to speak for them, and a few years later, helped by an economic depression, that man had destroyed not only his creators but German democracy, the European balance of power. . . and the result was the carnage of World War II."

"You say these things could never happen in America," Humphrey said. "I devoutly hope and pray that you are right. . . But I know from deep personal experience we are closer to this possibility than I would have ever believed possible."

An audience estimated at 11,000 turned out Tuesday night. The audience—mainly students—was friendly. There were boos when Humphrey first spoke of Wallace and applause when he said the University of Tennessee was the place to criticize Wallace.

Humphrey steered his campaign from the border state of Tennessee far below the Mason-Dixon line to Jacksonville, Fla.

While Wallace is running on a platform of law and order, Humphrey said, as governor of Alabama he disobeyed courts, insulted judges, and headed a state "with the highest murder rate in the nation."

"He could not maintain order in his own state—where he had the power—but now he promises to maintain order in every city and state where he will not have the power," the vice president said in a prepared speech.

Humphrey said Alabama housewives pay the highest sales tax in the country, six cents on the dollar; wages of working men in Alabama were third lowest in the nation; only two states spend less per pupil in education than Alabama; and Alabama has one of the lowest workmen's compensation systems in the country.

Assassins
Are Studied
By Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The presidential commission on violence is probing into the dark alleyways of the human mind to try to find what makes a man an assassin.

The panel stepped gingerly clear of the specific slayings of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in its search for some common thread to explain the assassinations that have shaken the nation in recent years.

Top Secret Service officials were called to today's closed session. They included Director James J. Rowley, Thomas J. Kelley, assistant director for protective intelligence, and Charles Humpstone, who oversees the presidential guard.

Psychiatrists and academic experts dotted the witness list for the public portion of the hearings.

The commission, created by President Johnson as Sen. Kennedy lay dying last June, turned to assassinations as it began its third weekly session of testimony in a wide survey of American violence.

Maine Girl Tells Of Kidnaping
By Ohio Man

BANGOR, Maine (AP) — A jury of nine women and three men is expected to take the case today of an Akron, Ohio, man charged with kidnaping a teenage girl last July 27.

The testimony of Darlene LeClair, 17, of Orono, Tuesday would up the state's case.

She told the jury that someone pressed a cloth permeated with an unfamiliar odor over her face and that she passed out several times.

The defense for 160 L. Walker, 22, rested without offering any testimony.

Police found Miss LeClair bound and gagged in the back of a furniture van parked on an Orono street. Walker was identified as the driver of the van.

Bigger OU Voice
For Students Urged

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — David Stivison, student body president at Ohio University, thinks students should have a voice in the selection of a new school president.

Stivison said Tuesday that the university board of trustees in-sulted the intelligence of students by not including a student representative on a five-man committee named to recommend a successor to President Vernon Alden, who is leaving in June to enter private business.

Police Recover
$50 For Merchant

Circleville Police recovered $50 for the Circle Tire shop a few hours after the money was reported stolen.

Ralph Nankins, Route 2, told police at 9:17 a.m. Tuesday the money was taken. Police discovered the culprit was a 10-year-old Williamsport youth.

He returned the money when confronted by officers. He has been referred to the Pickaway County Juvenile Court.

Wesley Barton was the investigating officer.

Cleveland Men
Face Charges

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Two Cleveland men were released on bond Tuesday after four coats valued at $30,000 were found in their car when they were stopped for speeding on the Ohio Turnpike near here.

Clarence Williams, 27, and David Willis, 33, were charged with carrying a concealed weapon. Williams posted $500 bond and Willis $1,000.

Saxbe Says Profit Good

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—"Profit is not a dirty word in this country and let us hope it never is," GOP senate candidate William B. Saxbe told a management group at the Mead Corp. here today.

"We need offer no apology for capitalism," he said. "Today, in the socialist nations they are getting a taste of it, and liking it. The family garden plots permitted by the state bosses have been more productive than the state farms."

"The profit system has provided us with the abundance we know today," Saxbe said. "It is what made America great and attracted people from other nations to our shores."

The Ohio attorney general said the estimated 30 million people who do not currently share in the country's wealth can be customers of tomorrow if given a boost to get them into the stream of production.

'Truth Squad'
On The Way

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A four-man Republican "truth squad" will make stops in Columbus and Cleveland Thursday, following up recent visits by Democratic presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey and his running mate, Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine.

Republican state headquarters said the group consists of Sens. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Paul Fannin of Arizona, and Congressmen James Batten of Montana and Glenn Davis of Wisconsin.

Gilligan Backs Tax Relief

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — John J. Gilligan, Democratic U.S. Senate candidate, urged Ohio voters today to approve the proposed constitutional amendment to authorize a homestead tax exemption.

Win or lose in November, Hubert Humphrey is going to have a terrible time wrestling with the reconstitution of the Democratic Party. He has lost the South, plainly, finally, and irrevocably. This could be surmised: Democrats in the White House have had to cope with southern desertions in Congress for years, and the "one party" South had become an election day myth long before Barry Goldwater carried the Gulf states in 1964. It is the split among the northern Democrats, made clear by the recent survey by the National Committee for an Effective Congress of 140 House of Representatives members, that reveals the staggering differences which Humphrey must bridge if his party is again to become a vital instrument of government.

For convenience's sake, the NCEC divided northern and western Democrats into two types, the "custodial liberals" and the "humanist liberals." The "custodians" believe in the policies of the Thirties: classical, bread-and-butter welfare, the support of Main Street morality, the acceptance of foreign policy commitments that sometimes necessitate wars or at least police actions. The "humanists," on the other hand, are "operative liberals" who don't mind the politics of protest and who are willing to accommodate all sorts of wild measures which they hope will improve the "quality" of life.

Humphrey's danger, even if he wins by virtue of George Wallace's ability to take the South away from Nixon, is that the rightward trend of American politics in 1968 will favor the Democratic "custodial liberals" at the expense of the "humanists," yet without returning enough of either type of Democrat to give him command of the legislature. A conservative "law and order" Congress will hardly improve the temper of the "humanists." What began as a "dump Johnson" movement with Allard Lowenstein's defection in New York and rolled up such a fearsome threat in the McCarthy and Kennedy campaigns would gather new fury outside of Congress. Whatever happens to Humphrey, the "humanists" are going to take possession of the Democratic Party, "or else."

The humanists include the Negroes who have stayed with the Party. I counted it a heartening thing when the Negroes refused to join with the Yippies at Chicago to take politics out of the convention hall into the streets. The Presidential nomination of the District of Columbia Negro leader, the Reverend Channing Emory Phillips, which drew close to seventy votes, and the abortive move to present the under-age Georgia Negro Julian Bond for Vice President, seemed to point to a willingness to work for change within the traditional order. But if, as now seems possible, the blue collar union workers (who are "custodial" liberals) are about to desert Humphrey because of their fears that the Democratic Party will support humanist legislation to force a change in the restrictive practices of unions that now discriminate against Negroes, what becomes of the Democrats as the "party of labor"?

As Allan Ryskind has pointed out in his excellent "Hubert: An Unauthorized Biography of the Vice President," Humphrey has always been "labor's candidate." As Mayor of Minneapolis in the Nineteen Forties Humphrey depended utterly on the support of the Central Labor Union. "The Unions," says Ryskind, "had the run of the town." In that now distant day, a case could be made out for the "humanism" of union labor; the issue of Negro competition for jobs had not yet become particularly important. But now that the Negroes have taken to flitting with the Right-to-Work movement and threatening to create "Freedom Labor Unions," Humphrey must make a bitter choice. To win in November, and to hold enough to Congress to give him an opportunity to govern, Humphrey counts heavily on the ability of AFL-CIO President George Meany and his COPE (the Committee on Political Education) to deliver the whole labor vote. (See Terry Catchpole's "How to Cope with COPE: The Political Operations of Organized Labor" for the documentation.) But the Kraft Poll of AFL-CIO members in 1967 already forecast the Wallace defection of many un-

Dean Martin

By BOB THOMAS
AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dean Martin is inclined to cut up during camera changes for his television variety show. When he does, this sort of conversation is sometimes heard over the loud-speaker between him and his producer-director Greg Garrison: "You're not acting like a star. Martin—I'm not a star; I'm a personality!"

Garrison believes the distinction is significant. He further predicts that it will be the deciding factor in the survival of the 15 variety shows in prime television time this season.

"The shows that are built around a strong and engaging personality will succeed; those that aren't, won't," he said flatly.

Garrison should know. He has been the director of the Dean Martin Show since its beginning four years ago and has produced it for most of that time. He attributes the current cycle for variety shows to the success of the Martin hour on NBC Thursday nights. Other, less prejudiced observers of the TV scene are inclined to agree.

Why has the Martin show thrived? "Because people like him," observed Garrison. "Everybody who knows Dean likes him; he's that kind of a guy. And it comes across on TV. He is a very likable personality."

Yet the Martin show did not take off like a rocket four years ago. It had a shaky beginning, the reason being a misjudgment of the Martin temperament. "Everybody thought Dean didn't want to work," remarked the producer-director. "So he was given only a few songs to sing and a few jokes to say. The rest of the time he sat down and pointed toward the guest stars. Soon we realized the mistake and began involving Dean more."

But work, Martin-style, is different from that of most other performers. His ability to "wing" a show in one day is well-known.

"When Dean walks through the studio door on the morning of the show," Garrison said, "He doesn't know what he is going to sing, or what he is going to say; he doesn't even know who the guest stars are going to be. I make it a point never to call him during the week for any reason."

"This season we are even doing away with the dress rehearsal. We will have only a run-through and then do the show itself. There is a reason for this. In previous seasons, we always had a dress rehearsal before an audience. Dean being the pro he is, he naturally put out for those in the studio; even between camera setups he would joke with the audience."

"When we came to the actual taping, it was like the second show in Vegas. He had already gone through the routines once before, and he didn't have the same energy. So we're going to tape the show without a dress rehearsal and keep the mistakes in; the audience loves them, anyway."

members. In this poll forty-six per cent of the members voted against open housing for Negroes where forty-three per cent supported it. Wallace, who is nothing if not shrewd, surely took note of this.

Humphrey will go with the humanists among his old supporters, the labor leaders, on the race issue. This does not mean, however, that he can count on the whole of labor, as he could in years gone by.

HAROLD ROSS, founder and guiding spirit of the New Yorker Magazine, played poker often—and badly. He was known far and wide as a prize pigeon. In fact, his facial expressions were so obvious when he drew a good hand that an associate proposed a humanitarian rule for games in which he participated: "Anyone who looks at Ross' face is cheating!"

An executive of the Princeton University Press was taking a few pre-dinner puffs on his pipe aboard a New York to Philadelphia "train" when an angry lady with a Pekinese dog under her arm descended upon him, yanked the pipe from his mouth and threw it out the window.

The printing exec, an impulsive fellow himself, promptly seized the lady's Pekie and threw that out, too. By the time the train reached Princeton Junction, everybody in the car was embroiled in the ensuing argument. It ceased abruptly when down the tracks marched the Pekinese—calmly smoking the pipe.

Anyhow, this is the exec's story—and you know how reliable printing execs are!

Speaking Of Your Health

When are blood transfusions necessary? When there is a sudden loss of blood following an injury or during surgery it is imperative to replace the total blood volume and the important cells that are contained in blood. There are some unusual medical conditions in which the blood forming organs do not produce sufficient quantities of blood. In others there may be a destruction of the blood cells, as in some forms of anemia. Under such circumstances it becomes necessary to replenish the blood by transfusion.

The amount of blood that is used depends entirely on the age of the patient, his size and the need as determined by the blood study. The amount of hemoglobin and the hematocrit or concentration of cells in the blood is measured and when it falls far below normal it can be replaced by new blood from donors.

Before a blood transfusion is given the blood group of the patient is carefully matched against the blood group of the donor by highly trained, licensed laboratory technicians. By an elaborate technique called matching and cross-matching every conceivable safety precaution is taken to ensure against unusual transfusion reactions.

It is now possible, through absolutely ingenious methods, to transfuse newly-born infants and even unborn babies, in order to spare them the serious after effects of the RH problems that happen during some pregnancies.

Can people become addicted to tranquilizer drugs? The problems of addiction are strange because there are so many factors involved. The first is the person and the second is the drug. There are undoubtedly a great many people who can become dependent on or enslaved by almost any kind of drug. They are referred to as addictive personalities.

All of us in the practice of medicine have no control over normal, sensible, personal limitations. I have known patients who have become addicted to aspirin or even salt and use them or other innocuous substances without restraint. If these people can become dependent on virtually any drug they most certainly

NEW YORK (AP) — When it comes to putting wheels on things, American industry is pre-eminent. Long ago it learned that the way to add value to a product is to move it from where it's in surplus to where it's needed.

Probably because of the nation's great size this lesson was learned early, and so General Motors and General Electric now produce the most powerful railroad engines and Boeing the largest planes. Even in the sea the United States holds some firsts. At least the knowledge is there, as demonstrated by the Navy's supercarriers.

The thing that U.S. firms seemingly haven't been able to make and sell is a really compact low-priced car. And that, a government official said this month, is just what the nation needs.

Detroit has been reluctant to admit the situation exists, and it can point to some fine small cars that were produced domestically in recent years. But, small as these are, they are bigger than European and Japanese models.

That this difference might have an effect on buyers is suggested by the surge in the sale of imported cars, which might total close to one million this year. And this is where the government official comes in. Imports mean money lost by American producers, as much as a half billion dollars by some estimates. Imports mean less tax revenue for the government and fewer jobs throughout the country. And they mean that more than a billion dollars in currency goes abroad each year.

John R. Petty, assistant secretary for international affairs in the Treasury Department, said the auto industry or the government must stop this dollar drain or else the balance of payments problem never will be licked.

Petty asked for new thinking, saying that the compact cars that Detroit now makes are far from what is needed and that consequently the British, French, Italian, Japanese, Swedish and German compacts are enjoying a boom.

Ironically, the small car market was thoroughly tested years ago by American Motors, which made millions on them and then abandoned the field and its profits as well. Now it is said to be planning a return to the market.

Reports from Detroit also indicate that the Big Three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—also are studying the small car market. But the evidence released so far indicates some of their products might still be larger than the imports.

Detroit's problem really isn't technological; it is more one of pricing and sales. The car can be made, but the profit is made? Most of the imported cars are built with labor that costs less than in the United States.

Even if Detroit learns how to keep down the sale price to something less than $2,000 it still has problems. Will the volume market remain or even grow? It's there now, but how about two years from now? And will a compact line add to the total of cars sold or merely cut into the sale of other cars?

Before the U.S. industry can crash the small car market it must spend scores of millions of dollars for design and tooling—to make new engines and bodies and transmissions and even to build new plants. It cannot compete in a small way; it must make its challenge in volume. Would it be worth it?

While an answer is sought, meanwhile, Detroit loses sales and dollars flow abroad. And what once was considered Detroit's perplexing problem is now all America's as well.

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a thought garage.

We park in it our ideas and recollections of the past. They are wonderful vehicles and take us on the most magic journeys. They do have only one gear—a reverse gear—that enables us to travel in only one direction: backward to vanished days.

But in a way isn't that a blessing? It can be greatly comforting. We all enjoy a return to the past, because we have survived the past, and can review in our thoughts those portions of it that please us and renew our strength to face present problems.

How awful it might be if, when we pushed a mental button, our thought garage delivered a vehicle that would take us only forward into the future. What terrible rides, what fearful journeys, we might take upon that one-way speedway. No road signs to guide us, no telling where we'd end up.

No, memory is more to be trusted than the crystal ball. It is better for our peace of mind. And the thought garage of your own memory is pretty crowded if you can look back and remember when—

You thought that if you picked up a load you were sure to break out all over with warts.

All a woman needed to do to win a reputation as a bohemian sophisticate was to smoke her cigarettes in a long silver and ebony holder.

If a boy's mother wouldn't let him get a short crew haircut he'd sulk for days and threaten to run away from home. Zoot suits were in fashion with pants so floppy that a young fellow had to take two steps in them before the pants began to move.

At Christmas, you could make a kid delirious with joy by giving him a big dollar pocket watch, which he promptly tied to a belt loop with a string.

Railroad men and coal miners might go on strike, but teachers never did.

You could buy a decent lunch for only a little more than you now have to pay in sales taxes on one in some U.S. cities today.

A business executive rarely saw his secretary's kneecap, and she generally wore a rubber-tipped eraser thrust through her bun of long hair.

Ailing old people, when they felt the miseries, usually first consulted the druggist on what patent medicine to take, as then they wouldn't have to pay $1.50 or $2 to the doctor. Quite a few survived.

A father was the head of the family, and his word was law. Fond parents worried if daughter went for a Saturday night ride with her suitor and wasn't home by 11 o'clock. "Her beau drives so fast," fretted Mother. "Do you think the horse could have bolted and wrecked the buggy?"

Those were the days! Remember?

Hatlo's They'll Do It Every Time

Win or lose in November, Hubert Humphrey is going to have a terrible time wrestling with the reconstitution of the Democratic Party. He has lost the South, plainly, finally, and irrevocably. This could be surmounted: Democrats in the White House have had to cope with southern desertions in Congress for years, and the "one party" South had become an election day myth long before Barry Goldwater carried the Gulf states in 1964. It is the split among the northern Democrats, made clear by the recent survey by the National Committee for an Effective Congress of 140 House of Representatives members, that reveals the staggering differences which Humphrey must bridge if his party is again to become a vital instrument of government.

For convenience's sake, the NECC divided northern and western Democrats into two types, the "custodial liberals" and the "humanistic liberals." The "custodians" believe in the policies of the Thirties: classical, bread-and-butter welfare, the support of Main Street morality, the acceptance of foreign policy commitments that sometimes necessitate wars or at least police actions. The "humanists," on the other hand, are "operative liberals" who don't mind the politics of protest and who are willing to accommodate all sorts of wild measures which they hope will improve the "quality" of life.

Humphrey's danger, even if he wins by virtue of George Wallace's ability to take the South away from Nixon, is that the rightward trend of American politics in 1968 will favor the Democratic "custodial liberals" at the expense of the "humanists," yet without returning enough of either type of Democrat to give him command of the legislature. A conservative "law and order" Congress will hardly improve the temper of the "humanists." What began as a "dump Johnson" movement with Allard Lowenstein's defection in New York and rolled up such a fearsome threat in the McCarthy and Kennedy campaigns would gather new fury outside of Congress. Whatever happens to Humphrey, the "humanists" are going to take possession of the Democratic Party, "or else."

The humanists include the Negroes who have stayed with the Party. I counted it a heartening thing when the Negroes refused to join with the Yippies at Chicago to take politics out of the convention hall into the streets. The Presidential nomination of the District of Columbia Negro leader, the Reverend Channing Emory Phillips, which drew close to seventy votes, and the abortive move to present the under-age Georgia Negro Julian Bond for Vice President, seemed to point to a willingness to work for change within the traditional order. But if, as now seems possible, the blue collar union workers (who are "custodial" liberals) are about to desert Humphrey because of their fears that the Democratic Party will support humanist legislation to force a change in the restrictive practices of unions that now discriminate against Negroes, what becomes of the Democrats as the "party of labor"?

Detroit's problem really isn't technological; it is more one of pricing and sales. The car can be made, but can the profit be made? Most of the imported cars are built with labor that costs less than in the United States.

Even if Detroit learns how to keep down the sale price to something less than $2,000 it still has problems. Will the volume market remain or even grow? It's there now, but how about two years from now? And will a compact line add to the total of cars sold or merely cut into the sale of other cars?

Before the U.S. industry can crash the small car market it must spend scores of millions of dollars for design and tooling — to make new engines and bodies and transmissions and even to build new plants. It cannot compete in a small way; it must make its challenge in volume. Would it be worth it?

While an answer is sought, meanwhile, Detroit loses sales and dollars flow abroad. And what once was considered Detroit's perplexing problem is now all America's as well.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a thought garage.

We park in it our ideas and recollections of the past. They are wonderful vehicles and take us on the most magic journeys. They do have only one gear—a reverse gear—that enables us to travel in only one direction: backward to vanished days.

But in a way isn't that a blessing? It can be greatly comforting. We all enjoy a return to the past, because we have survived the past, and can review in our thoughts those portions of it that please us and renew our strength to face present problems.

How awful it might be if, when we pushed a mental button, our thought garage delivered a vehicle that would take us only forward into the future. What terrible rides, what fearful journeys, we might take upon that one-way speedway. No road signs to guide us, no telling where we'd end up.

No, memory is more to be trusted than the crystal ball. It is better for our peace of mind. And the thought garage of your own memory is pretty crowded if you can look back and remember when—

You thought that if you picked up a toad you were sure to break out all over with warts.

All a woman needed to do to win a reputation as a bohemian sophisticate was to smoke her cigarettes in a long silver and ebony holder.

If a boy's mother wouldn't let him get a short crew haircut he'd sulk for days and threaten to run away from home. Zoot suits were in fashion with pants so flappy that a young fellow had to take two steps in them before the pants began to move.

At Christmas, you could make a kid delirious with joy by giving him a big dollar pocket watch, which he promptly tied to a belt loop with a string.

Railroad men and coal miners might go on strike, but teachers never did.

You could buy a decent lunch for only a little more than you now have to pay in sales taxes on one in some U.S. cities today.

A business executive rarely saw his secretary's kneecap, and she generally wore a rubber-tipped eraser thrust through her bun of long hair.

Ailing old people, when they felt the miseries, usually first consulted the druggist on what patent medicine to take, as then they wouldn't have to pay $1.50 or $2 to the doctor. Quite a few survived.

A father was the head of the family, and his word was law. Fond parents worried if daughter went for a Saturday night ride with her suitor and wasn't home by 11 o'clock. "Her beau drives so fast," fretted Mother. "Do you think the horse could have bolted and wrecked the buggy?"

Those were the days! Remember?

On Oct. 4 a heavy frost covered the area when the thermometer fell to 31 degrees.

Circleville Postoffice business during the previous quarter (3 months) established an all-time high record for the local office.

Asbury Chapel, a Ross County church with a history dating back to 1805, was sold at public auction.

New Home Nursing classes were started by Red Cross for Pickaway County and Circleville women. 143 had already completed instruction and were putting their training to use where needed.

County milk production was down 20 percent due to dry pasture, a result of the severe drought. Just one-tenth of an inch of rain had fallen in a 43-day period.

Pickaway County Selective Service board celebrated its third anniversary. The office was opened Oct. 16, 1940.

The Junior Fair attracted a large crowd throughout the city who viewed the displays, enjoyed the rides and saw the free acts presented. The grand champion steer, an Angus, brought 35 cents a pound and $437 to Lois Defenbaugh of Salt-creek Twp.

The parking meters in Circleville became the property of the city as the final payment was made to the firm from which they were purchased.

Circleville city council passed an ordinance declaring it illegal for persons under 18 to enter a drinking establishment which sold anything stronger than 3.2 beer.

The Grand Theater showed the film, "Gone With the Wind" for three days in its final engagement. The film was being taken out of service. The prices? adults—55 cents, children—25 cents.

Pumpkin Show Baked Goods Adds Mini Pies

Since the Pumpkin Show Directors are totting a 30-pound Mini Pie to various festivals, the director of the Baked Goods department added a Mini Pie category.

Categories have been added for this year in the Special 1-A section. There will be Class 1. Best pumpkin mini pie, and Class 2. Best fruit filled mini pie. The pies are to be made in four inch foil pans.

A food editor from the Columbus Dispatch has been invited to judge the mini pies. Premiums will be $2 for first prize, $1 second and 50c for third. A mini trophy will also be awarded from Pumpkin Show Inc.

Other special awards will go to the Grand Champion cake baker. She will receive a $10 cash prize plus a trophy donated by Willson Leist. The Champion Cake baker will receive a $5 cash award.

Entries will be displayed in the Armory on E. Franklin St., and received from 1 to 5 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 15. Closed judging will be 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 16.

Mrs. Willson Leist, director of the department, will be assisted by Mrs. Francis McGinnis and Mrs. Ben Temple.

Entries are open to residents of Pickaway County and trading area and must be placed by the designated time. Entries will be released after 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 19.

The committee urges exhibitors to make advance entries by phone or mail at least three days before placing.

Premium books are available from any of the committee members and Mrs. Leist will advise all interested exhibitors in this department. Her phone number is 474-2614.

New Project Discussed By Guild 20

Discussion was held concerning a project during the recent meeting of Berger Hospital Guild 20 in the Red Cross headquarters. Mrs. Robert Hettinger and Mrs. Faye Taylor were co-hostesses, with Mrs. Hettinger conducting the business session.

A collection was taken to aid the Red Cross with its "Ditty Bag" program for servicemen. A guest for the evening was Mrs. Charlene Costes. Mystery Sister gifts were received by Mrs. Ray Ridgeway and Miss Mary Clark.

Mrs. Cressie Hall, Mrs. Paul Thompson, Mrs. George Mowery, Mrs. Donald Rose, Mrs. Roloff Wolford and Mrs. Ronald Young were recipients of door prizes.

The October meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Ruth Anderson, Route 4, with Mrs. Donald Hulse as co-hostess.

Speaker Set For Jaycee Meeting

Dear Abby:

Hairpiece Can't Fool All The People

DEAR ABBY: I am a young man of 29, if you can call 29 "young". I have plenty of hair around my ears, and also in the back, but I am very thin on top. O, let's face it, I'm bald!

I recently bought a very natural-looking hairpiece, and, if I say so myself, it improves my looks 100 per cent. I get along fine at dinner parties and shows, but what do I do when I'm invited to go swimming or boating with some of my new friends who don't know I wear a rug?

And how about when I'm making out with a girl and she wants to run her fingers thru my hair?

DEAR PHONY: You can fool some of the people some of the time, but they're usually the wrong people, so don't try to fool anybody. Tell your new friends you've got store-bought locks, and carry on accordingly.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 years old and my problem is that I come from a long line of "profuse perspirers." In other words we are champion sweaters.

My mother walks around the house all summer with a bath towel around her neck because she sweats so much. My married sister says when she goes anywhere to play canasta the hostess says, "Let's use the old cards, Ruthie gets them all wet anyway."

My kid brother says he hates to hold a girl's hand in a movie because his hand is always so wet and clammy.

And I take the prize. I have to put my hair up every night because my head sweats and the curl won't hold. Is there a cure for this, or are we all hopeless?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Monday is the first day Ohioans may start applying to their local election boards for absentee ballots to vote in the Nov. 5 election.

MARCIA
DEAR MARCIA: Perspiration apparently runs in your family. Sweat glands become overactive when the emotions are revved up. Talk to your doctor, he may be able to give you something to control it. If he can't, forget it. It may be something you will just have to sweat out.

DEAR ABBY: My problem isn't a big one but it irritates me to no end. After 12 years of marriage, my husband and I adopted a beautiful 4-month-old baby. Every time we tell someone he is adopted, they say, "O, he's so sweet. How could his mother give him away?"

Abby, I'm so tired of hearing this I could scream! What can we say? Sign me...

IRRITATED
DEAR IRRITATED: No really intelligent person would ever ask such a stupid question, and stupid questions don't deserve to be answered. But if you must say something, say "His mother gave him away because she loved him as much as we do."

DEAR ABBY: Aha. I knew if I followed your column long enough I would eventually catch you in a misstatement of fact.

You said, "No man ever proposed to a woman when his feet hurt."

Well, I did. On Christmas eve, 1935, I donned new clothes from head to foot for my date with Kathleen. My feet were killing me when I asked her to marry me. When she said yes, altho I was walking on air, my feet still hurt.

Now, 32 years and three grandsons later, the first thing I do when I come home at night is to take off my shoes.

So, Abby, if you would like to correct the record and print this, go ahead. And I won't object if you use my real name.

Dr. Lou Goorey of the Worthington Jaycees will be the guest speaker at the Membership Drive meeting of Circleville Jaycees Thursday.

Dr. Goorey, 34, an eight year veteran of the Jaycees, has served his local organization as director, president, and state director.

In 1965, he was elected national director of the Ohio Jaycees and the following year was voted to the office of state president. As national director, he was Chairman of the External Policy committee.

As state president he wrote Freedom Proclamation and was also active in leadership training and individual development.

In his term of U.S. Vice-President, Goorey coordinated activities among the civic group's chapters in Maryland, New Mexico, Ohio, Oklahoma and West Virginia. He also administered the U.S. Jaycee Governmental Affairs activities. As a U.S. VP, he served as a voting member of the 18 member Executive committee, governing body for the 286,000 member civic organization.

In 1953 he earned his Bachelor of Science Degree from Ohio State University, and received his Doctor of Medicine Degree there in 1957. He now practices in Columbus.

Affiliated with the Temple Israel Congregation, he is also active in the Magnolia Lodge of Ohio and the chapter of Royal Masons. He is a member of two honor groups, Alpha Epsilon Delta and Alpha Omega Alpha.

Lou and his wife, Marti, are parents of two children and reside in Worthington, Ohio.

Anyone interested in attending the meeting may call President Asa Elsea at 474-2834 or contact any Jaycee member.

Reach Accord In Toledo Dispute

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The University of Toledo and Local 1935, American Federation of State, Municipal and County employees, reached agreement Tuesday on grievance procedures.

The agreement, which included a no-strike provision, averted a strike by 100 maintenance and grounds workers.

Temples Of Abu Simbel Safe From Lake

By ALY MAHMOUD
Associated Press Writer

ABU SIMBEL, Egypt (AP) — The greatest archeological surgery in history is now complete and successful. The twin temples of Abu Simbel, standing safely on their new home, look down with majestic disdain on the waters of Lake Nasser, which had once threatened them.

In an operation lasting 53 months archeological surgeons from France, West Germany, Italy, Sweden and Egypt cut the two temples into 6,000 blocks, each weighing 20 to 30 tons.

With electronically guided saws and fine chisels, the cutting operation was undertaken with extreme care to reduce scars to a bare minimum.

Linen soaked in special glue was pasted on the stone before saws went through them. This averted distortion in stone edges.

Use of explosives was prohibited. Some 195,000 cubic yards of rock was removed using only bulldozers, rippers and pneumatic tools, while the front facades of the temples were protected by sand filling and temple chambers deep in the rock.

Young, Lausche Split Fortas Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's two Democratic U.S. Senators, Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young, cast opposing votes Tuesday as the Senate failed to cut off debate on the motion to take up the nomination of Abe Fortas to be Chief Justice of the United States.

The vote was 45-43 for the motion, but a two-thirds majority was required. Young favored cloture, while Lausche voted against it.

were supported by steel scaffolding.

Stone blocks were wrapped in foam rubber and transported 220 feet higher than the old site. Each stone block was given special markings to determine its relation to other blocks.

Scientists planned it so that the two temples stand on their new home facing the rising sun every morning. Sun rays penetrate the temples' chambers and corridors and engulf four prominent gods in the innermost sanctuary.

This work saved the 32-century-old temples from waters rising behind the new Aswan Dam. The project cost $38 million; the United States and Egypt bore most of this.

Chemists, archeologists, architects and Egyptologists used special materials to stick together the carved stone blocks. Synthetic resin, a type of glue known as epoxy resin mortar, was the main one.

The joints between the blocks were filled with a special mortar and powdered sandstone mixed with an adhesive and having the same color of the stone surroundings. The joints and scars were completely disguised.

Two huge protecting domes were erected on the temples and over them rocks were piled. The rocks were injected with epoxy and other noncorrosive hardeners.

The next step was to remove the "bandages." Water was sprayed over reassembled chunks and the linen became loose and easy to pull away. By some error, epoxy leaked on the facade of the king's temple and caused a stain. Scientists are working to erase it.

A line of 21 stone baboons greeting the rising sun stand on top of the temple for the Pharaoh

Ramses. The king's temple, dedicated to the worship of the sun god Re-harakhti, is decorated at its entrance with four seated colossi of Ramses, each bearing an inexplicable smirk.

Ramses, known in history as an egocentric Pharaoh, kept an elaborate harem of more than 70 wives. He preferred the beautiful, shapely Nefertari for whom he built the small temple and dedicated it to Hathor, the goddess of dance and music.

Ramses had 111 sons and 67 daughters.

Nearly 1,700 workmen and 200 archeologists and chemists took part in the salvage operation.

Atwater PTA Meet Scheduled

The first meeting of the Atwater PTA for 1968-1969 will take place on Thursday at the school.

The annual Open House, which has been scheduled for 7:30 P.M. that evening, will give parents a brief opportunity to meet the teachers in their classrooms.

At 8 p.m., the program for the evening will begin in the school multipurpose room. A panel discussion of Family Life Education, with special emphasis on the importance of sex education, will be the main feature. Panel members will represent the parents' view, that of the clergy, the medical profession, and the educators.

A brief business meeting will precede the program. Of special interest will be the progress report of the newly-formed Atwater Safety Committee. Baby-sitting services will be available at the school that evening.

Something To Think About . . . Television and Children

By JEAN CRIST

Television, to me, seems in many ways similar to a child. As the problems and frustrations of raising a child end temporarily when they are asleep, so do the difficulties of dealing with television, stop temporarily when it is turned off. Only at these times do you have a chance to appreciate or make a judgement about either one.

Television, like a child, can be enjoyable, frustrating, entertaining, exasperating, terrible, or worthwhile all in one day. A program can make you happy you were able to afford a set and receive such enjoyment from it or the next one can make you wonder why you have a contrivance that brings such vulgarity into your living room. Just as at times the joys of parenthood are in contrast to the periods you wonder why you decided to have a family when it would have been easier to leave well enough alone.

It would give me great pleasure to say that I have strict control over the television in our family and that we see only the programs that are uplifting and not those that are detrimental. I would also be proud to say that my children are at all times well behaved and do what they should. Neither is true. I don't feel either is entirely possible, that in both cases you have to do the best you can as you go along, working toward that which is desirable, but never expecting to accomplish complete attainment.

Trying to decide who gets to watch what on the "escape machine" after supper is a job that would make U Thant's position at the United Nations be like managing a kindergarten group, in comparison.

We have no set rules in our family, we just play it by ear. Sometimes Mom and Dad use their supreme authority and sometimes the children win the battle. Somehow over a period of time everyone seems to get a "fair shake" this way.

When TV oversteps its bounds and enters homework territory or interferes with some really important areas in our life, it is put in its proper perspective and not allowed to become a spoiler. This is much the same as allowing a child so much freedom but at times making them aware of the fact that there are limits.

The entrance of the era of television has been, as with any invention of man, both a boon and a blessing, in direct relation to the way man has made use of it. We must remember television is in the throes of adolescence and needs patience and assistance from us. Assistance in the form of letters which inform "the powers that be" of what we want and what we don't want.

Television is the mirror of man today. We of this century have the awesome privilege of seeing ourselves on a massive scale in all our glory and all our degradation. We see portrayed before us daily all the marvelous good that man can accomplish and the terrible destruction he can bring upon himself. The possibilities of the present and the future are laid before us in frightening reality. Never before in history has man been made so aware of his potential for good and evil. Perhaps this presentation of television, as disturbing as it is, will in the course of history be one of the greatest gifts the medium will give us. By seeing ourselves as we really are, only then can we realize the desperate need for change.

As with television, our children are another mirror which is daily placed before us. They reflect our image and if it is less than it should be we must go to the source, ourselves, to effect a change.

Wallace Ohio Bid Strongest Ever

By KEITH KAPPES
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—His bumper stickers appear on jalopies, family sedans and luxury cars. His buttons are worn in offices and factories.

His signs are staked in suburban yards.

The Ohio campaign of George C. Wallace has touched all 88 counties. And based on last summer's petition drive, it is the strongest third party presidential bid in modern Ohio history.

The Wallace campaign is different in at least two respects. None of the workers are paid and campaign materials are being sold to raise money instead of being given away. Workers pay their own expenses. The most popular campaign selling item has been the two-for-a-quarter bumper sticker.

Wallace officials report a "land office business" in sticker sales and claim their distribution outnumbers the free stickers of Richard Nixon and Hubert H. Humphrey.

Chieftains of the Wallace state staff say most of his support rests with "blue collar" workers. However, backgrounds of the leaders of his state committee and nine largest county organizations indicate the Wallace appeal has made inroads in the business and professional ranks.

State chairman of the Ohio Wallace for President Committee is Richard C. (Bud) Kochensparger, 36, of Grove City. He is a sheet metal worker and former Democrat.

Mrs. Patricia O'Connell, 38, a Cleveland housewife, heads the former Alabama governor's campaign in populous Cuyahoga County. She is a former Republican precinct official.

Noble A. Olson of Cincinnati, a civil engineer, is Hamilton County Chairman. He gave up the GOP for the AIP. Wayne St. John, 34, of Columbus, is a detergent salesman when he is not selling the Wallace candidacy to his Franklin County team. He used to vote Republican.

George Cabeen, 35, of Dayton, says he personally pays the office rent for the Montgomery County Wallace committee. The former Democrat operates a vending service. The Lucas County is led by George Photos, 36, of Toledo, who switched from the GOP. He is a real estate broker.

Mrs. Geraldine Andrews, 31, an Akron housewife, is Summit County's Wallace chief. She is an ex-Democrat. Gene Sharpe, 40, of Lima, left the GOP to head the Allen County Wallace Committee. He is a salesman.

William Shranko, 25, a Youngstown crane operator, is district chairman for Mahoning, Trumbull and Columbiana counties. He worked for Nixon in 1960. Former Republican William J. Fox, 44, laid-off Massillon steelworker, heads the Wallace band in Stark, Wayne, Tuscarawas and Carroll counties.

The Wallace campaign strategy for Ohio is simple—recruit a door-to-door volunteer in each of the state's 12,886 polling places.

Rhodes To Speak To Cattlemen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes will address the opening session of the Sixth International Conference of the World Jersey Cattle Bureau here next Monday.

More than 200 delegates, representing 14 countries, will attend the conference.

Ever since Marco Polo returned to Venice in 1295, Persian rugs have been prized by connoisseurs.

we care

our managers have taken over!

This is a special week.

We call it Managers Week.

They've taken over the store.

They've planned a terrific thrift event.

Storewide values that you'll recognize as "first-aid" for your ailing budget.

Why this special week?

First, to express special appreciation to you.

Second, to honor our managers.

Third, to give us a chance to prove "We Care."

If you're a regular A&P customer, this week is for you.

If you've never shopped A&P, this is the week to test-shop A&P.

When you see the savings on your total food bill, when you experience the warmth of being cared about, we think you'll come back time and time again. Millions do.

Bankers To Meet In Chillicothe

Representatives from all Circleville banks will be in attendance when Group 4 of the Ohio Bankers Assn. meets Wednesday at the Elks Club in Chillicothe. Pickaway is one of the 13 counties represented in Group 4. County representative to the Group Executive Committee is Earl W. Palm, vice president of the Second National Bank.

Election of officers will be held and a full program has been planned, according to Vice Chairman Lloyd L. Davis, president of the First National Bank of Chillicothe.

During the afternoon session, a proposed plan for the direct return of unpaid items will be discussed by OBA Secretary Howard B. Sturgeon. This plan would provide for the direct return of a dishonored item to the first endorsing bank, eliminating the present method of returning such items through each endorser.

Features of the evening session will include speeches by Edward W. Barker, president of the Ohio Bankers Association and president of the First National Bank of Middletown, and by Jim Pickens from South Bend, Indiana.

Leary, Cohen Speak At OU

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Timothy Leary, controversial proponent of LSD drug usage, took an Ohio University audience on a "trip" Tuesday night to where he said man will love a good life by the "systematic, energetic use of drugs."

A government medical researcher, Dr. Sidney Cohen, followed Leary on the speaker's platform to bring "everyone back to sober reality."

Something To Think About

Television and Children

By JEAN CRIST

Television, to me, seems in many ways similar to a child. As the problems and frustrations of raising a child end temporarily when they are asleep, so do the difficulties of dealing with television, stop temporarily when it is turned off. Only at these times do you have a chance to appreciate or make a judgement about either one.

Television, like a child, can be enjoyable, frustrating, entertaining, exasperating, terrible, or worthwhile all in one day. A program can make you happy you were able to afford a set and receive such enjoyment from it or the next one can make you wonder why you have a contrivance that brings such vulgarity into your living room. Just as at times the joys of parenthood are in contrast to the periods you wonder why you decided to have a family when it would have been easier to leave well enough alone.

It would give me great pleasure to say that I have strict control over the television in our family and that we see only the programs that are uplifting and not those that are detrimental. I would also be proud to say that my children are at all times well behaved and do what they should. Neither is true. I don't feel either is entirely possible, that in both cases you have to do the best you can as you go along, working toward that which is desirable, but never expecting to accomplish complete attainment.

Trying to decide who gets to watch what on the "escape machine" after supper is a job that would make U Thant's position at the United Nations be like managing a kindergarten group, in comparison.

We have no set rules in our family, we just play it by ear. Sometimes Mom and Dad use their supreme authority and sometimes the children win the battle. Somehow over a period of time everyone seems to get a "fair shake" this way.

When TV oversteps its bounds and enters homework territory or interferes with some really important areas in our life, it is put in it's proper perspective and not allowed to become a spoiler. This is much the same as allowing a child so much freedom but at times making them aware of the fact that there are limits.

The entrance of the era of television has been, as with any invention of man, both a bone and a blessing, in direct relation to the way man has made use of it. We must remember television is in the throes of adolescence and needs patience and assistance from us. Assistance in the form of letters which inform "the powers that be" of what we want and what we don't want.

Television is the mirror of man today. We of this century have the awesome privilege of seeing ourselves on a massive scale in all our glory and all our degradation. We see portrayed before us daily all the marvelous good that man can accomplish and the terrible destruction he can bring upon himself. The possibilities of the present and the future are laid before us in frightening reality. Never before in history has man been made so aware of his potential for good and evil. Perhaps this presentation of television, as disturbing as it is, will in the course of history be one of the greatest gifts the medium will give us. By seeing ourselves as we really are, only then can we realize the desperate need for change.

As with television, our children are another mirror which is daily placed before us. They reflect our image and if it is less than it should be we must go to the source, ourselves, to effect a change.

Wallace Ohio Bid Strongest Ever

By KEITH KAPPEL
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—His bumper stickers appear on jalopies, family sedans and luxury cars. His buttons are worn in offices and factories.

His signs are staked in suburban yards.

The Ohio campaign of George C. Wallace has touched all 88 counties. And based on last summer's petition drive, it is the strongest third party presidential bid in modern Ohio history.

None of the Ohio officials of Wallace's American Independent Party claim to be experienced politicians. Most say they have never before been active in a campaign. They are a mixture of Republicans and Democrats and Whites and Negroes but with Negroes heavily in the minority.

The Wallace campaign is different in at least two respects. None of the workers are paid and campaign materials are being sold to raise money instead of being given away. Workers pay their own expenses. The most popular campaign selling item has been the two-for-a-quarter bumper sticker.

Wallace officials report a "land office business" in sticker sales and claim their distribution outnumbers the free stickers of Richard Nixon and Hubert H. Humphrey.

Chieftains of the Wallace state staff say most of his support rests with "blue collar" workers. However, backgrounds of the leaders of his state committee and nine largest county organizations indicate the Wallace appeal has made inroads in the business and professional ranks.

State chairman of the Ohio Wallace for President Committee is Richard C. (Bud) Kochensparger, 36, of Grove City. He is a sheet metal worker and former Democrat.

Mrs. Patricia O'Connell, 38, a Cleveland housewife, heads the former Alabama governor's campaign in populous Cuyahoga County. She is a former Republican precinct official.

Noble A. Olson of Cincinnati, a civil engineer, is Hamilton County Chairman. He gave up the GOP for the AIP. Wayne St. John, 34, of Columbus, is a detergent salesman when he is not selling the Wallace candidacy to his Franklin County team. He used to vote Republican.

George Cabeen, 35, of Dayton, says he personally pays the office rent for the Montgomery County Wallace committee. The former Democrat operates a vending service. The Lucas County is led by George Photos, 36, of Toledo, who switched from the GOP. He is a real estate broker.

Mrs. Geraldine Andrews, 31, an Akron housewife, is Summit County's Wallace chief. She is an ex-Democrat. Gene Sharpe, 40, of Lima, left the GOP to head the Allen County Wallace Committee. He is a salesman.

William Shranko, 25, a Youngstown crane operator, is district chairman for Mahoning, Trumbull and Columbiana counties. He worked for Nixon in 1960. Former Republican William J. Fox, 44, laid-off Massillon steelworker, heads the Wallace band in Stark, Wayne, Tuscarawas and Carroll counties.

The Wallace campaign strategy for Ohio is simple—recruit a door-to-door volunteer in each of the state's 12,886 polling places.

Rhodes To Speak To Cattlemen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes will address the opening session of the Sixth International Conference of the World Jersey Cattle Bureau here next Monday.

More than 200 delegates, representing 14 countries, will attend the conference.

Bankers To Meet In Chillicothe

Representatives from all Circleville banks will be in attendance when Group 4 of the Ohio Bankers Assn. meets Wednesday at the Elks Club in Chillicothe. Pickaway is one of the 13 counties represented in Group 4. County representative to the Group Executive Committee is Earl W. Palm, vice president of the Second National Bank.

Election of officers will be held and a full program has been planned, according to Vice Chairman Lloyd L. Davis, president of the First National Bank of Chillicothe.

During the afternoon session, a proposed plan for the direct return of unpaid items will be discussed by OBA Secretary Howard B. Sturgeon. This plan would provide for the direct return of a dishonored item to the first endorsing bank, eliminating the present method of returning such items through each endorser.

Features of the evening session will include speeches by Edward W. Barker, president of the Ohio Bankers Association and president of the First National Bank of Middleton, and by Jim Pickens from South Bend, Indiana.

Leary, Cohen Speak At OU

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Timothy Leary, controversial proponent of LSD drug usage, took an Ohio University audience on a "trip" Tuesday night to where he said man will love a good life by the "systematic, energetic use of drugs."

A government medical researcher, Dr. Sidney Cohen, followed Leary on the speaker's platform to bring "everyone back to sober reality."

Collier Benches Frank Ryan; Bill Nelson To Play

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Benching quarterback Frank Ryan wasn't something Blanton Collier slept on. He couldn't.

After the loss to Los Angeles Sunday the Cleveland Browns coach went home but couldn't go to sleep. "I took a sleeping pill and went to bed, but by one o'clock I still hadn't been able to close my eyes," Collier said.

"I got up and kept thinking about it," he said. "At three o'clock I finally decided we had to make a change."

Collier announced it Tuesday. Bill Nelson will go against the Pittsburgh Steelers Saturday night at Municipal Stadium instead of Ryan, the Browns regular quarterback since 1962.

Also, Charley Leigh will replace Charley Harroway at fullback.

There are some ironic twists to the quarterback switch. Nelson came to the Browns last season from Pittsburgh and this will be his first start in a Cleveland uniform. Also, Ryan took over in 1962 when Jim Ninowski fractured a collarbone — against the Steelers.

"I'm definitely pleased with this opportunity, Nelson said. "That's what I'm here for. I talked to Frank about it and he wished me the best. He's a good quarterback and has accepted this well."

"I have an advantage going against Pittsburgh and not Dallas or Los Angeles," Nelson said. "But I know the Pittsburgh players will think twice about it and come firing at me."

Collier said he was not blaming Ryan for the losses to the Rams and Cowboys, but added the Browns simply were "not moving the football."

Harroway has been filling in for Ernie Green, who has been sidelined with a knee injury since Aug. 9.

Leigh, who joined the Browns as a free agent this year, played three years in the Continental Football League.

During the last two seasons with Pittsburgh, Nelson played eight complete games and the Steelers averaged 33 points. The club averaged 16 points in games he played part time.

Several times their punter either didn't get the punt off or had a bad punt because of the Tiger pressuring defense.

The boys looked better than they did last week," Fouts said. "They are running better and sustaining their blocks."

HE praised quarterback Rich Speckman for picking up some key first downs for the Tigers.

The next game for the freshmen is 10 a.m. Saturday at Greenfield.

Circleville Frosh Beat Mt. Logan

The Circleville freshmen football team defeated Chillicothe Mt. Logan Tuesday, 28-6, on the Corwin St. football field.

The frosh scored two touchdowns in the first period, and one each in the second and third quarters. The little Tigers had driven to the three yard line just before the half ended, but ran out of time before they could get across the goal line.

The little Tigers had 11 first downs, rushed for 257 yards and passed for six in piling up a total of 263 yards.

Rick Blankenship scored the first touchdown for the Tigers, crossing the goal line on a 25-yard sweep climaxing a 58-yard drive on the opening kickoff.

BLANKENSHIP scored the two point conversion on the play. Don Valentine scored next, rambling 16 yards off tackle to end a 30-yard drive. Blankenship again tallied the two point conversion.

Valentine scored again in the second period, going eight yards off tackle to end a 25 yard drive.

The final touchdown of the game was a 30-yard romp around end by Tom Shea, to end a 63-yard drive.

Defensively the little Tigers looked real sharp according to Danny Fouts, frosh coach. "We had good field position for the whole game," Fouts commented.

Several times their punter either didn't get the punt off or had a bad punt because of the Tiger pressuring defense.

HE praised quarterback Rich Speckman for picking up some key first downs for the Tigers.

Cards, Tigers Open Series Today

ST. LOUIS (AP) — While Bob Gibson and Denny McLain squirmed in the World Series spotlight today, another Cardinal and another Tiger fidgeted with their own problems.

Orlando Cepeda's stem from his hitting and Mickey Stanley's from his fielding.

Cepeda is the St. Louis first baseman who's built a reputation as a lousy hitter during the season but a failure as a hitter during the Series.

Stanley is the Detroit center fielder who's become known for his defensive ability in center field but who suddenly must do the same thing at shortstop.

In today's first game of the World Series, Cepeda's job was to try and help power 13-shutout Gibson past 31-game winner McLain. Stanley, on the other hand, was responsible for not letting any Cardinal hits get past him.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — World Series facts and figures:

Teams—Detroit Tigers, American League champions, vs. St. Louis Cardinals, National League champions.

Length of series—Best-of-seven.

Favorite—St. Louis, 8-5.

Starting time—1 p.m. CDT (2 p.m. EDT)

Site of first two games — Busch Stadium, St. Louis

Probable attendance—54,575.

Radio and television coverage — National Broadcasting Company

Managers—Mayo Smith, Detroit; Red Schoendienst, St. Louis.

Opening day pitchers—Denny McLain (31-6), Detroit; Bob Gibson (22-9), St. Louis.

All-time series standings — American League 38, National League 26.

Opening game weather outlook—partly cloudy, temperature 80-85.

Schedule — First game, Wednesday, Oct. 2 at St. Louis; Second game, Thursday, Oct. 3 at St. Louis; Friday, Oct. 4, open date for travel; Third game, Saturday, Oct. 5 at Detroit; Fourth game, Sunday, Oct. 6 at Detroit; Fifth game, if necessary, Monday, Oct. 7 at Detroit; Tuesday, Oct. 8, open date for travel; Sixth game, if necessary, Wednesday, Oct. 9 at St. Louis; Seventh game if necessary, Thursday, Oct. 10 at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Arms.

That's all the talk has been about prior to today's opening of the World Series. Arms. The ones that belong to Denny McLain and Bob Gibson.

But how about legs; specifically Lou Brock's?

Brock probably is the one player who could change the Series around, just as he did last year against Boston when the focus also was on pitchers, Gibson and Boston's Jim Lonborg.

All Brock did was steal a World Series record seven bases while hitting .414.

But while the focus remains on McLain and Gibson, the eyes of Detroit catcher Bill Freehan will be squarely on Brock.

"We can't let him run wild," Freehan says pointedly. "The first time he goes is important — everyone wants the first one. The best thing is if he doesn't get on base, but if he does the pitcher's got to give me a shot at getting him if he goes."

And there's little doubt that Brock's going to go.

Collier Benches Frank Ryan; Bill Nelson To Play

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Benching quarterback Frank Ryan wasn't something Blanton Collier slept on. He couldn't.

After the loss to Los Angeles Sunday the Cleveland Browns coach went home but couldn't go to sleep. "I took a sleeping pill and went to bed, but by one o'clock I still hadn't been able to close my eyes," Collier said.

"I got up and kept thinking about it," he said. "At three o'clock I finally decided we had to make a change."

Collier announced it Tuesday. Bill Nelson will go against the Pittsburgh Steelers Saturday night at Municipal Stadium instead of Ryan, the Browns regular quarterback since 1962.

Also, Charley Leigh will replace Charley Harraway at fullback.

There are some ironic twists to the quarterback switch. Nelson came to the Browns last season from Pittsburgh and this will be his first start in a Cleveland uniform. Also, Ryan took over in 1962 when Jim Ninowski fractured a collarbone — against the Steelers.

"I'm definitely pleased with this opportunity, Nelson said. "That's what I'm here for. I talked to Frank about it and he wished me the best. He's a good quarterback and has accepted this well."

"I have an advantage going against Pittsburgh and not Dallas or Los Angeles," Nelson said. "But I know the Pittsburgh players will think twice about it and come firing at me."

Collier said he was not blaming Ryan for the losses to the Rams and Cowboys, but added the Browns simply were "not moving the football."

Harraway has been filling in for Ernie Green, who has been sidelined with a knee injury since Aug. 9.

Leigh, who joined the Browns as a free agent this year, played three years in the Continental Football League.

During the last two seasons with Pittsburgh, Nelson played eight complete games and the Steelers averaged 33 points. The club averaged 16 points in games he played part time.

Circleville Frosh Beat Mt. Logan

The Circleville freshmen football team defeated Chillicothe Mt. Logan Tuesday, 28-6, on the Corwin St. football field.

The frosh scored two touchdowns in the first period, and one each in the second and third quarters. The little Tigers had driven to the three yard line just before the half ended, but ran out of time before they could get across the goal line.

The little Tigers had 11 first downs, rushed for 257 yards and passed for six in piling up a total of 263 yards.

Rick Blankenship scored the first touchdown for the Tigers, crossing the goal line on a 23-yard sweep climaxing a 58-yard drive on the opening kickoff.

Blankenship scored the two point conversion on the play. Don Valentine scored next, rambling 16 yards off tackle to end a 30-yard drive. Blankenship tallied the two point conversion.

Valentine scored again in the second period, going eight yards off tackle to end a 23 yard drive.

The final touchdown of the game was a 30-yard romp around end by Tom Shea, to end a 63-yard drive.

Defensively the little Tigers looked real sharp according to Danny Fouts, frosh coach. "We had good field position for the whole game," Fouts commented.

Several times their punter either didn't get the punt off or had a bad punt because of the Tiger pressuring defense.

The boys looked better than they did last week," Fouts said. "They are running better and sustaining their blocks."

HE praised quarterback Rich Speakman for picking up some key first downs for the Tigers.

The next game for the freshmen is 10 a.m. Saturday at Greenfield.

Cards, Tigers Open Series Today

ST. LOUIS (AP) — While Bob Gibson and Denny McLain squirmed in the World Series spotlight today, another Cardinal and another Tiger fidgeted with their own problems.

Orlando Cepeda's stem from his hitting and Mickey Stanley's from his fielding.

Cepeda is the St. Louis first baseman who's built a reputation as a lousy hitter during the season but a failure as a hitter

$200,000 Alcan Golf Clash Starts

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — If the Alcan $200,000 Golf Tournament gets started at all today they can thank British cricket.

Cricketers who know best how to dry out selected grounds arrived to bail out the 7,140-yard, par 74 Royal Birkdale Golf Club links which have been under a week long rain.

At stake is a 64-man tournament which includes the Alcan Golfer of the Year title, restricted to 24 professionals who have qualified to shoot for a first prize of $55,000.

The two tournaments run side-by-side.

To meet the water problem, the promoters brought in equipment which is used to dry cricket wickets and collect water.

The work was to be done at first light today and the 64-man tournament then starts.

Golfer of the Year, over 72 holes, 18 holes per day, gets going after noon.

In that one, America's Billy Casper is favored, with Gay Brewer and Australia's Peter Thomson also drawing strong support. Other Americans in the 24-man field are Frank Beard, Gardner Dickinson, Bob Murphy, Miller Barber, George Archer, Tom Weiskopf, Bert Yancey, and Lee Trevino.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A veteran World Series trinket vendor says buttons boosting third party candidate George Wallace are outselling baseball souvenirs.

Andy Day of Chicago says the Wallace badges also are outselling Nixon and Humphrey buttons. "I can't even give away the Humphrey buttons," says Day, who claims to have been to 40 World Series.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Arms. That's all the talk has been about prior to today's opening of the World Series. Arms. The ones that belong to Denny McLain and Bob Gibson.

But how about legs; specifically Lou Brock's?

Brock probably is the one player who could change the Series around, just as he did last year against Boston when the focus also was on pitchers. Gibson and Boston's Jim Lonborg.

All Brock did was steal a World Series record seven bases while hitting .414.

But while the focus remains on McLain and Gibson, the eyes of Detroit catcher Bill Freehan will be squarely on Brock.

"We can't let him run wild," Freehan says pointedly. "The first time he goes is important — everyone wants the first one. The best thing is if he doesn't get on base, but if he does the pitcher's got to give me a shot at getting him if he goes."

And there's little doubt that Brock's going to go.

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Cardigan Bay, harness racing's first $1,000,000 winner, will be officially retired in a ceremony at Yonkers Raceway Saturday night, Oct. 12. It was at Yonkers that the 12-year-old New Zealand-bred pacer made his first American start.

Stanley, meanwhile, must concentrate on the defensive part of his game. After all, today was only the ninth time in his career he's been a shortstop.

He's there because Tiger Manager Mayo Smith wanted to get Al Kaline's bat into the lineup. With Kaline going to right, Jim Northrup switched to center and Stanley to the infield.

The 26-year-old Tiger first played short in late August, then worked there the last six games of the season.

Smith also indicated that if

This year's third game pitchers on Saturday will be Earl Wilson, 13-12, for Detroit and Ray Washburn, 14-8, for St. Louis.

By that time, it should be established if Cepeda is a World Series hitter and Stanley a World Series fielder.

Pick Tom Janik
Top Defenseman

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tom Janik's personal statistics were depressing zeroes on interceptions, yardage returned and touchdowns for Buffalo's first three games this American Football League season.

But the strong safety was named the AFL's Defensive Player of the Week today by The Associated Press for his part in Buffalo's 37-35 upset victory Sunday over the New York Jets.

Janik picked off two Joe Namath passes, returning the first 37 yards to set up a field goal and the second 100 yards for a touchdown.

Fearless Grid Forecasts Made

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) — The college football schedule-makers will have a hard time topping last week's Purdue-Notre Dame brawl this season.
But this Saturday's grid pairings could produce some fireworks too, with Southern California, Penn State, UCLA and Alabama among the nationally-ranked powers facing formidable rivals.
We're back in the pass pocket again after scrambling for short yardage last weekend in the forecasting league. The completion record to date is 93-28-7... a .725 clip if you count the ties against us.
The picks:

Southern California over Miami, Fla.: O. J. Simpson, who has rushed up a storm in his first two games, should be calm the tough Hurricanes.
Penn State over West Virginia: Each has one of the East's finest linebacksers. But Penn State has more razzmatazz to go with its red dogs.
UCLA over Syracuse: The Orangemen flattened UCLA on the West Coast last year. Greg Jones & Co. should settle the score at Syracuse.
Mississippi over Alabama: 'Bama had trouble scoring against VPI and Southern Mississippi.
Notre Dame over Iowa: What usually happens to the team that tangles with Notre Dame

after an Irish setback?
Florida State over Texas A&M: The Seminoles are on the rebound after a tough loss to Florida. And Ron Sellers, their All-American end, can bounce higher than most.
Purdue over Northwestern: It's a wonder the Wildcats have any claws left after run-ins with Miami and USC on successive weekends.
Georgia over South Carolina: The Bulldogs have been waiting two weeks to get back at somebody after being tied in a last-play knot by Tennessee.
Arizona State over Wyoming: If the Sun Devils can get past Wyoming, the road to the Western Athletic Conference title is all downhill.

Indiana over Illinois: The Illini have been taken 47-0 and 44-0 by Kansas and Missouri.
Missouri over Army: Vanderbilt proved last week that the Army can be outflanked.
Oregon State over Washington.
Among the others:
EAST: Princeton over Columbia; Cornell over Rutgers; Holy Cross over Dartmouth; Pittsburgh over William & Mary; Boston College over Buffalo; Penn over Brown; Harvard over Bucknell; Yale over Colgate.
SOUTH: Kentucky over Auburn; Louisiana State over Baylor; Georgia Tech over Clemson; Duke over Maryland; Southern Mississippi over East Carolina; Florida over Mississippi State; Georgia Tech over Kansas State; Vanderbilt over North Carolina; Tulane over Tampa.
MIDWEST: Colorado over Iowa State; Kansas over New Mexico; Miami, Ohio, over Kent State; Michigan over Navy; Michigan State over Wisconsin; Minnesota over Wake Forest; Ohio State over Oregon; Toledo over Ohio University.
SOUTHWEST: Texas El Paso over Arizona; Arkansas over Texas Christian; Houston over Cincinnati; Texas Tech over Colorado State; Southern Methodist over North Carolina State; Texas over Oklahoma State; Tennessee over Rice; Tulsa over Southern Illinois.
FAR WEST: Stanford over Air Force; California over San Jose State; Utah over Washington State.

OU-Toledo Game Highlights Mid-American Grid Slate

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — There's more than first place at stake Saturday when Ohio University entertains Toledo in the Mid-American Conference football headline.
The Bobcats and Rockets, who shared last year's championship, are both unbeaten and Toledo hasn't lost since its 1967 opener when Ohio came out on top in a 20-14 struggle.
Coach Frank Lauterbur's team boasts a 12-game winning streak, longest among major colleges. But the rugged Bobcats rate a slight edge to shatter Toledo hopes before a capacity crowd at Peden Stadium.
"The team that shows the best defense will win," says Toledo Coach Frank Lauterbur. "This definitely is a must game for us."
Ohio, 2-0, has whipped Marshall 48-8 and Kent State, 31-7. Toledo has disposed of Richmond, 31-14, Villanova, 45-21 and Marshall, 35-12.
The Bobcats, armed with a multi-talented offense, are averaging 39 points a game while yielding only seven. Toledo has scored at a 37-point clip and has allowed 16 a contest.
"There is no soft touch anymore in this league," Lauterbur noted. "We had our hands full with Marshall last week. Every game seems to be a vital one." Lauterbur admits that his players would like to wipe out the memory of last year's loss to Ohio.

"There is no doubt we're getting a psychological lift thinking about last year. We'll be ready to play football. But we must get a combined effort from our offensive and defensive units if we're to succeed."
Both clubs are in good physical condition. Toledo banks on its one-two punch of quarterback Steve Jones and prolific tailback Roland Moss.
Junior quarterback Cleve Bryant leads a host of swift, hard-running Ohio backs but the Bobcats' defense looks stronger and could spell the difference.
In other top games, rugged Miami (2-1) is at home to Kent (0-3) and surprise Bowling Green (2-0) opens conference warfare at Western Michigan (1-2). Winless Marshall (0-2-1) is outside the league against Xavier (1-3).
The way it looks from here: Ohio 27, Toledo 7; Miami 20, Kent 6; Western Michigan 17, Bowling Green 14; Xavier 20, Marshall 13.

Oilers Are No. 1 In AFL Offense
NEW YORK (AP) — Houston won the American Football League's Eastern title last year with the poorest passing offense in the entire circuit.
Today, the Oilers are No. 1 in passing offense and one-half game out of the Eastern basement.
Official AFL statistics released today show the Oilers leading the league in total offense with 1,446 yards gained and in passing offense with 952 yards gained. But they've dropped three of four games and are tied with Buffalo, just ahead of winless Miami.

Nyitray, Nugent Top MAC Stars
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Quarterback P. J. Nyitray, who guided Bowling Green to a 20-14 victory over previously unbeaten Dayton, is the Mid-American Conference Bank of the Week.
Lineman of the Week honors went to Merv Nugent, a defensive end who anchored Miami's tough defense in a 28-0 whitewashing of Western Michigan.

Girls Are Banned
AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (AP) — Several girl members of the Dutch Olympic team will be banned from the official opening ceremony of the Games Oct. 12 because they have turned their official dresses into miniskirts, the Dutch news agency ANP reported from Mexico City. The official hemline for the dresses is just above the knee.

The Notre Dame Victory March may be replaced this week by a new tune entitled Why, Oh, Why, Oh, Did Bob Yunaska and Bob Dillingham Ever Leave Ohio.
Seniors Yunaska and Dillingham are two big reasons why Purdue trounced Notre Dame 37-22 Saturday to remain the No. 1 college football team in the country.
As a result, they were named co-Linemen of the Week today by The Associated Press.

Norm Van Brocklin Goes To Atlanta
ATLANTA (AP) — Norm Van Brocklin takes over the football fortunes of the Atlanta Falcons with promises of plenty of power and plenty of time to turn them into a top team.
The National Football League's passing whiz of the '50s demanded—and got—a long-term contract of a reported five years, full control of the team and a free hand in future scouting, trading and drafting of players.
Van Brocklin, 42, apparently has been in contact with Atlanta owner Rankin Smith of several weeks.

Fearless Grid Forecasts Made

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) — The college football schedule-makers will have a hard time topping last week's Purdue-Notre Dame brawl this season.

But this Saturday's grid pairings could produce some fireworks too, with Southern California, Penn State, UCLA and Alabama among the nationally-ranked powers facing formidable rivals.

We're back in the pass pocket again after scrambling for short yardage last weekend in the forecasting league. The completion record to date is 93-28-7... a .725 clip if you count the ties against us.

The picks:

Southern California over Miami, Fla.: O. J. Simpson, who has rushed up a storm in his first two games, should be calm the tough Hurricanes.

Penn State over West Virginia: Each has one of the East's finest linebacks. But Penn State has more razzmatazz to go with its red dogs.

UCLA over Syracuse: The Orangemen flattened UCLA on the West Coast last year. Greg Jones & Co. should settle the score at Syracuse.

Mississippi over Alabama: 'Bama had trouble scoring against VPI and Southern Mississippi.

Notre Dame over Iowa: What usually happens to the team that tangles with Notre Dame

after an Irish setback?

Florida State over Texas A&M: The Seminoles are on the rebound after a tough loss to Florida. And Ron Sellers, their All-American end, can bounce higher than most.

Purdue over Northwestern: It's a wonder the Wildcats have any claws left after run-ins with Miami and USC on successive weekends.

Georgia over South Carolina: The Bulldogs have been waiting two weeks to get back at somebody after being tied in a last-play knot by Tennessee.

Arizona State over Wyoming: If the Sun Devils can get past Wyoming, the road to the Western Athletic Conference title is all downhill.

Indiana over Illinois: The Illini have been taken 47-0 and 44-0 by Kansas and Missouri.

Missouri over Army: Vanderbilt proved last week that the Army can be outflanked.

Oregon State over Washington.

Among the others:

EAST: Princeton over Columbia; Cornell over Rutgers; Holy Cross over Dartmouth; Pittsburgh over William & Mary; Boston College over Buffalo; Penn over Brown; Harvard over Bucknell; Yale over Colgate.

SOUTH: Kentucky over Auburn; Louisiana State over Baylor; Georgia Tech over Clemson; Duke over Maryland; Southern Mississippi over East Carolina; Florida over Mississippi State; Georgia Tech over Kansas State; Vanderbilt over North Carolina; Tulane over Tampa.

MIDWEST: Colorado over Iowa State; Kansas over New Mexico; Miami, Ohio, over Kent State; Michigan over Navy; Michigan State over Wisconsin; Minnesota over Wake Forest; Ohio State over Oregon; Toledo over Ohio University.

SOUTHWEST: Texas El Paso over Arizona; Arkansas over Texas Christian; Houston over Cincinnati; Texas Tech over Colorado State; Southern Methodist over North Carolina State; Texas over Oklahoma State; Tennessee over Rice; Tulsa over Southern Illinois.

FAR WEST: Stanford over Air Force; California over San Jose State; Utah over Washington State.

The Notre Dame Victory March may be replaced this week by a new tune entitled Why, Oh, Why, Oh, Did Bob Yunaska and Bob Dillingham Ever Leave Ohio.

Seniors Yunaska and Dillingham are two big reasons why Purdue trounced Notre Dame 37-22 Saturday to remain the No. 1 college football team in the country.

As a result, they were named co-Linemen of the Week today by The Associated Press.

Mid-American Conference football headline.

The Bobcats and Rockets, who shared last year's championship, are both unbeaten and Toledo hasn't lost since its 1967 opener when Ohio came out on top in a 20-14 struggle.

Coach Frank Lauterbur's team boasts a 12-game winning streak, longest among major colleges. But the rugged Bobcats rate a slight edge to shatter Toledo hopes before a capacity crowd at Peden Stadium.

"The team that shows the best defense will win," says Toledo Coach Frank Lauterbur. "This definitely is a must game for us."

Ohio, 2-0, has whipped Marshall 48-8 and Kent State, 31-7. Toledo has disposed of Richmond, 31-14, Villanova, 45-21 and Marshall, 35-12.

The Bobcats, armed with a multi-talented offense, are averaging 39 points a game while yielding only seven. Toledo has scored at a 37-point clip and has allowed 16 a contest.

"There is no soft touch anywhere in this league," Lauterbur noted. "We had our hands full with Marshall last week. Every game seems to be a vital one."

Lauterbur admits that his players would like to wipe out the memory of last year's loss to Ohio.

"There is no doubt we're getting a psychological lift thinking about last year. We'll be ready to play football. But we must get a combined effort from our offensive and defensive units if we're to succeed."

Both clubs are in good physical condition. Toledo banks on its one-two punch of quarterback Steve Jones and prolific tailback Roland Moss.

Junior quarterback Cleve Bryant leads a host of swift, hard-running Ohio backs but the Bobcats' defense looks stronger and could spell the difference.

In other top games, rugged Miami (2-1) is at home to Kent (0-3) and surprise Bowling Green (2-0) opens conference warfare at Western Michigan (1-2). Winless Marshall (0-2-1) is outside the league against Xavier (1-2).

The way it looks from here: Ohio 27, Toledo 7; Miami 20, Kent 6; Western Michigan 17, Bowling Green 14; Xavier 20, Marshall 13.

WATER WONDERS—Two of the stars of Uncle Sam's swim team in the Olympics talk it over at Colorado Springs before heading for Mexico City and the big Games starting there October 12. The two are Don Schollander (left), who won four gold medals in the 1964 Olympics, and Mark Spitz, who is expected to be one of the top performers of the 1968 team.

Oilers Are No. 1 In AFL Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston won the American Football League's Eastern title last year with the poorest passing offense in the entire circuit.

Today, the Oilers are No. 1 in passing offense and one-half game out of the Eastern basement.

Official AFL statistics released today show the Oilers leading the league in total offense with 1,446 yards gained and in passing offense with 952 yards gained. But they've dropped three of four games and are tied with Buffalo, just ahead of winless Miami.

Nytray, Nugent Top MAC Stars

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Quarterback P. J. Nytray, who guided Bowling Green to a 20-14 victory over previously unbeaten Dayton, is the Mid-American Conference Bank of the Week.

Lineman of the Week honors went to Merv Nugent, a defensive end who anchored Miami's tough defense in a 28-0 whitewashing of Western Michigan.

Derby Dates Its Rise To Railway

DARBY TWP. SCHOOL — There has been an active school within the town boundaries of Derby since the 1800s. The present school population is made up of grades 1-6 under the supervision of Lowell Anderson, principal.

TOWNSHIP HOUSE — The Derby Township house carries the date 1894. It is currently used as the polling place for all voters of the township. Trustees are James E. Musselman, Darrell Furniss, Maxwell Graham and clerk, Albert Fields.

DERBY CHURCH — At one time two religious affiliations were represented in the town of Derby. The Methodist Church remained to serve parishioners. A new addition has recently been added to the relatively new church building.

The village of Derby, which lies almost equal distance from Columbus and Circleville, can date its rise to the completion of the railroad through the town in 1884, according to a "Pickaway County Review" dated 1889.

The Derby Twp. school building is still in use for students grades 1-6 with an enrollment of 288 pupils.

The population of Derby numbers approximately 400 residents. There are currently two active civic organizations in the town. The IOOF Lodge, which installed its first officers in October of 1888, and the Derby's Men's Club a non-profit organization, contribute to the community affairs.

The town is dry — has always been — and will always remain so. The original deeds for the

New Holland Names C Of C Committees

The New Holland area Chamber of Commerce met Monday night with newly elected president Josef Louis presiding.

The object of the meeting was to name chairmen for the various committees for the business of developing civic, industrial and agricultural programs for the community.

Louis appointed Mayor Lincoln Schwartz as the liaison between the chamber and council and named the chairman of seven key committees. The chairmen, who will appoint two committeemen to serve with them are: Rules and Regulations, Mrs. Cris Cross; membership, Danny Kirkpatrick; village planning, Dean Drake; recreation, Gary Kirkpatrick; housing, Robert Lewis, industry, Charles Dinkler; and rural planning, Sheldon Grimes.

The next regular meeting of the organization is scheduled for next week.

LODGE BUILDING — The 35 active members of IOOF Lodge contribute much to community affairs and join with the local Derby Men's Club to sponsor the annual homecoming and dinner.

DERBY POST OFFICE — Postmaster since 1959, William Spradlin invites patrons to 'sit a spell'. Mail gatherers have an opportunity to pass the time and news of the day while they await the arrival of the mail to the village.

2 Edward Albee Playlets Fail Reappraisal' Dismally

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP)—The two Edward Albee playlets which had their premiere Monday at the Billy Rose Theater flunk the reappraisal test, dismally.

"Box," a monologue for an absent actress, and "Quotations from Chairman Mao Tse-tung," a set of unrelated tirades, were originally staged months back at the Studio Arena in Buffalo, N. Y. Audiences thronged, but few critics were conquered by the prize author's proclaimed effort to explore new dramatic interactions. Albee is co-sponsor of this production.

A second look and listen merely confirms an impression that the tandem is a snug doodle, mechanically devised and signifying little.

In the voice—only piece which Ruth White delivers over loudspeakers to open and close the affair. Albee provides some fragmentary impressions of life's inane pressures upon the individual.

A giant ramp slides the four "Mao" participants into the soaring rectangular frame that fills the stage. One impersonates Communist China's leader, another symbolizes age en route to the poorhouse, and the remaining pair represent high society vapidity.

Each concentrates obliviously on separate themes—the imminent collapse of an imperialist Western world, the ingratitude of offspring, frustrated suicide at sea.

County Records $2 Million In Real Estate

The total number of recordings for the month of September in the county recorder's office were somewhat less than the previous month. The number of real estate mortgages recorded and cancelled was up in number, however, and involved over two million dollars.

The individual transactions recorded during the month were 130 deeds; 90 real estate mortgages involving $1,601,051.18 in monies; and 54 miscellaneous recordings.

The real estate mortgages cancelled numbered 64 and involved monies in the amount of $1,303,650.43. There were 175 financing statements filed and processed making a total of 274 recordings, according to Hazel Yeatts, county recorder.

Coal Strikes Premature, Union Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top United Mine Workers officials hustled home from sluggish contract talks today to check spreading wildcat strikes that have idled about 30,000 men in the soft coal fields.

Union officials said there were 20,000 strikers in West Virginia, 7,500 Pennsylvania, and 2,200 in Southern Illinois who apparently believed the Mine Workers two-year contract expired Monday night.

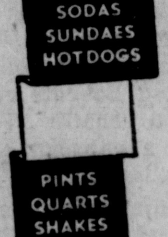

Five mines were shut down in Kentucky but no estimate was available on how many men were involved.

Union President W. A. "Tony" Boyle said expiration notice served on the Bituminous Coal Operators Association fixed the contract expiration date at midnight next Tuesday.

Boyle ordered the 152 members of the union's Wage Policy Board back to their home districts to "get the mines back to work."

The wage committee had been standing by in Washington in anticipation of a new contract for 80,000 of the nation's coal miners in 22 states.

Departure of the committee indicated a snag in the talks, which had been going

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:

Temperatures continued quite mild for early October across Ohio Tuesday night. Skies were mostly fair and temperatures at daybreak were mostly in the lower 60s.

High temperatures today were expected to pass the 80-degree mark in most sections again.

A cold front is expected to push eastward across most of Ohio tonight and early Thursday. Showers will develop ahead of the front across Ohio this afternoon, with showers or thundershowers accompanying the front tonight.

Cooler air will spread over the state Thursday, keeping temperatures mostly in the 70s, with a few showers likely in the northern sections.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECAST
Temperatures will average below normal Thursday through Monday. Highs will average in the 60s and lows in the 40s.
Cooler Thursday and Friday with little day-to-day temperature change thereafter. Precipitation will total less than a quarter inch west and from a quarter to a half inch east portion occurring as showers Thursday and again the first of the week.

Ohio Plants Struck

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Strikes by some 5,000 steelworkers hit six plants in Eastern Ohio Tuesday.

All but one of the strikes was over contract negotiations.

Coal Strikes Premature, Union Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top
United Mine Workers officials hustled home from sluggish contract talks today to check spreading wildcat strikes that have idled about 30,000 men in the soft coal fields.

Union officials said there were 20,000 strikers in West Virginia, 7,500 Pennsylvania, and 2,200 in Southern Illinois who apparently believed the Mine Workers two-year contract expired Monday night.

Five mines were shut down in Kentucky but no estimate was available on how many men were involved.

Union President W. A.
"Tony" Boyle said expiration notice served on the Bituminous Coal Operators Association fixed the contract expiration date at midnight next Tuesday.
Boyle ordered the 152 members of the union's Wage Policy
Board back to their home districts to "get the mines back to work."

The wage committee had been standing by in Washington in anticipation of a new contract for 80,000 of the nation's coal miners in 22 states.

Departure of the committee indicated a snag in the talks, which had been going
